Number Men Caught Within Blazing Plant

Area Quarter Mile Square Menaced by Fire After Oil Explosion

(By United Press)

EVERETT, Mass., Feb. 10.—A tremendous explosion rocked the plant of the Beacon Oil company here this afternoon. Six were known dead and it was feared as many more perished.

Company officials estimated at least 50 were hurt.

Fire broke out after the explosion and menaced an area of a quarter mile square where 300 men worked.

An undetermined number of men were reported trapped in one of the blazing buildings and rescue workers were trying to save them.

The explosion was believed to have occurred in the vaporizer building. Its cause was not known.

Ambulances sped in and out of the plant.

Priests were called to administer to the dying. A general alarm was sounded and fire apparatus was sent wrom a dozen nearby stations.

Everett is a suburb of Boston, about six miles from the center of the city.

The explosion occurred shortly after 3 p. m.

Officials of the company feared the list of injured might reach 100.

SENATE SCHEDULE FOR BILLS ORDERED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—With farm bloc leaders clamoring for action on farm relief measures, a Republican conference of the senate today directed its steering committee to map out a schedule of legislation to be considered.

Farm bloc members had served notice privately that they would seek consideration of the McNary-Haugen bill as soon as the Norris Muscle Shoals bill is disposed of in the senate.

Chairman Smoot, of the senate finance commmittee, is jockeying to get consideration of his alien property bill before the Norris bill.

The steering committee was directed to seek to preserve peace and draw up an orderly sequence of action for various measures.

$7,000,000 Added To Appropriation Measure By House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The house today passed the war department appropriation bill carrying about $406,000,000 or nearly $7,000,000 more than the appropriations committee had approved.

The house accepted without record vote the McDuffie amendment adding $5,886,310 to the $50,000,000 in the bill for rivers and harbors projects. A standing vote showed 164 for and 96 against. The increase was opposed by the budget bureau.

Smith Resigns As Illinois Senator; Then Reappointed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 10.—The confused Illinois senatorial situation was thrown to the voters of the state for solution today through the resignation, reappointment and announcement of candidacy for re-election of Senator-designate late Senator-elect Frank L. Smith.

Smith will go before the voters on the issue of the state's right to elect its own senators without approval of the senate, which refused to seat him.

Smith, who had refused to recognise the senate's right to bar him, resigned late yesterday as senator-elect and immediately was appointed by Gov. Len Small to the vacancy thus created. He then became senator-designate.

League Sounds Doom Of Geneva Peace Protocol

(By United Press)

GENEVA, Feb. 10.—The final doom of the famous Geneva protocol, that was to end all wars, was sealed today and the impossibility of any early world-wide agreement on arbitration and mutual defense was admitted when the League of Nations secretariat published a report from its three investigators on the security commission.

The report said that any general pact was impossible and that the league must concentrate only on increasing the number of regional agreements and treaties between individual states or groups of states.

The regional agreements are similar to those negotiated at Locarno.

There the principal World war combatants promised to arbitrate disputes and to make war on any of the signatories that attacked another.

FOX' CASE TO BE CARRIED INTO U. S. SUPREME COURT

YOUNG O'NEIL, WANTED IN OIL QUIZ, IN EUROPE

Son of Prairie Oil Executive Follows Course Taken By Father

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Wayne O'Neil, son of James E. O'Neil, missing teapot oil witness, has followed his father's course and fled to Europe, the senate Teapot committee was advised today by Jesse D. Moore, U. S. marshal in Brooklyn.

The committee wants young O'Neil as a witness also.

Moore wired Chairman Nye, of the committee, that he had been unable to find young O'Neil at his home in Garden City, L. I. The son sailed from New York September 9, last year, Moore reported, and is having his mail forwarded to Villa San Patrivia, Bordigata, Italy.

The father has been missing as witness in the oil cases since 1924, when he went to Europe to live. The committee has learned that he gave back to his Prairie Oil and Gas company $800,000 of the bonds of the mysterious Continental Oil company deal of 1921 because he had been informed he could not live long and desired to make restitution.

Evidence has shown that young O'Neil acted as go-between and distributed the bonds for his father.

A subpoena was issued for the son last Saturday.

Moore's telegram follows:

"Unable make service on Wayne O'Neil in Garden City. Communicated with secretary of Clark H. Kounts, at Plaza hotel, New York City, and he stated that Clark H. Kounts had not seen Wayne O'Neil for the last two years and he, the secretary, had not seen him for one year.

Hickman Will Not Hang for At Least Year, Lawyers Predict

By DAN CAMPBELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Two boyish attorneys, who sought to save William Edward Hickman from the gallows, will take their case into the U. S. supreme court, they intimated today.

"The Fox," adjudged mentally responsible for the murder of Marion Parker, will not be hanged for at least one year, Jerome Walsh and Richard Cantillon, defense counsel, predicted today.

The defense plans to make a formal motion for a new trial at the time of sentence tomorrow morning and, in the event it is denied, an appeal will be filed which eventually may take the case to the highest tribunal.

The appeal will be based on the contention that Hickman has not been tried on his guilt or innocence and therefore has not been accorded his constitutional rights.

Jests With Jailers

Jesting with his jailers and laughing at the verdict that undoubtedly will result in the death sentence, the slayer maintained his outward composure today.

He evidenced much interest in the proposal that his body be given to medical science for study.

"Sure, I'm willing. I'll give my body to the first bidder, provided of course that it goes to men of high standing in the medical profession," Hickman said.

"I'm sane, I know, but of course I also realize that there is something wrong somewhere. If my family and lawyers have no objection, perhaps something can be gained by performing an autopsy," the 20-year-old killer said.

Hickman's only fear, he readily admits, is San Quentin. On numerous occasions he has commented on reports that prisoners there have expressed a desire to mob him if the opportunity is given them.

Maintains "Death Watch"

A "death watch" will be maintained over "The Fox" until he is taken north. Jailer Frank Dewar said today. It is feared that, despite his stolid pose, he may make an attempt upon his life.

Judge Trabucco was reviewing the testimony taken in the case today, having asked the state and defense to stipulate that he be permitted to do so before passing sentence.

He has the alternative of sentencing to life imprisonment, but the death penalty is expected in view of the fact that the slayer has admited all facts of the crime.

Mrs. Eva Hickman, the mother, was in seclusion today, under the care of physicians. She was found wandering about the streets near WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—Bids for sale of three remaining Pacific coast cargo lines of the U. S. shipping board were opened today and referred to the Merchant Fleet corporation for consideration.

Two bids were received for the American-Oriental line of seven ships. The Admiral-Oriental line offered $670,257.20; a Tacoma, Wn., business men's syndicate offered $696,906.

A bid of $1,065,000 for the Oregon-Oriental line was offered by K. D. Dawson on behalf of a Portland, Ore., corporation, still to be organized.

The Matson Navigation company and the American Hawaiian line submitted a joint bid for the American-Australian-Orient line. They offered $1,961,755.50 for the 21 ships.

Senate Adopts Action Against Third Term

LaFollette Proposal Passes Over Objection of G. O. P. Leaders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Third presidential terms are "unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to free institutions," the C. S. senate declared today.

The resolution by Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, setting forth this opinion, was adopted over the objection of many administration leaders.

In three days of debate preceding the vote, opponents of the resolution charged it was devised to embarrass any movement to draft President Coolidge in June for reelection.

Its proponents said it merely expressed a policy and pointed to the fact that it commended the president for observing this policy. The commendation section was removed shortly before the final vote, however. The vote was 56 to 26.

The California vote on the resolution was divided, Senator Johnson voting in favor and Senator Shortridge against.

CONFESSED SLAYER EXECUTED IN TEXAS

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Feb. 10—George J. Hassell, confessed slayer of 13 persons, died in the electric chair at Texas state prison here today.

Hassell was strapped in the chair at 12:23 a. m. He was pronounced dead at 12:29 a. m. A few minutes later, Robert Lebenton, Negro, was electrocuted for the murder of D. E. Morgan, farmer.

Hassell was executed for the murder, Dec. 24, 1926, of his stepson. He also confessed the murder of his wife and six other stepchildren and of five persons in California.

Hassell's wife and her children were found clubbed to death in an abandoned storm cellar at the Hassell farm. Hassell's wife was the widow of his brother.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Feb. 10.—The body of 23-year-old Viola May, for whose murder her brother-in-law, William Heron, is held in the county jail, was found in the Tuscarawas river this afternoon, but was reclaimed by the stream when it slipped from grappling hooks with which searchers were groping in the waters.

Proposed Ships Would Cost $4,176,426,000

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge's proposed five-year naval building program, together with construction already authorized and under way, would cost a grand total of $4,176,426,000, according to an official navy department estimate submitted today to the house naval affairs committee.

Seventy-one new ships would be laid down in five years, beginning in 1929, and would be completed by 1937. The expenditure would be spread over nine years, from 1929 to 1937.

These enormous figures of the navy bear out the contention of naval committee members that the program would cost far more than the $800,000,000 estimate originally submitted.

The total figure is made up of an annual outlay of approx-

MAN FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO KILL SELF IN HOTEL HERE

James Watson, of Seattle, Slashes Throat, Wrists With Razor

CUTTING his throat and slashing his wrists with a razor, James Watson, 37, of 1004 East Fourth street, Seattle, Wn., made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide while in a room in the Cornelius hotel, 519 1-2 North Main street, at 11 o'clock last night, according to a report filed with city police.

He was rushed to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where it was said his condition was serious but that he would live.

Watson registered at the hotel under the name of J. Perry. Strange noises were heard in his room later and police were notified. Sergeant Elliott and Officer Perry broke through the door and found Watson lying on the bed in a pool of blood.

In the man's pocket was found $257.49 in cash and a stamp book, on which Watson had written: "Have $260 in pocket. Bury me." The note was signed, James Watson.

The man was conscious when found by officers and conversed with them. He admitted his name was Watson instead of Perry and, according to the police report, stated that he had been drinking for the last three weeks and that something told him to take his own life.

Officers today are attempting to communicate with Tom Conley, 1004 Fourth street, Seattle, who, Watson said, is a friend.

Admiral Scored For Saying Luck Was With 'Lindy'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The house applauded Representative McClintic, Democrat, Oklahoma, today when he took exception to published statements attributed to Rear Adm. Phillip Andrews, commandant at Boston, that the successful transatlantic flight of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was "95 to 98 per cent luck."

"Andrews has tried to discredit the ability of one of the greatest flyers the world ever has produced," McClintic declared. "It was not luck. It was pluck and ability to navigate the air. I'd like to know who authorized these admirals to make statements attempting to discredit Lindbergh and other flyers."

TWO DEPUTIES ARE KIDNAPED BY PRISONERS

Convicts Write Letter Saying Men Left in Quarry; No Trace Found

(By United Press)
(By United Press)

KOKOMO, Ind., Feb. 10.—Search of the two stone quarries at Kokomo today failed to reveal any trace of Deputy Sheriffs John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, who disappeared Tuesday with two prisoners.

A letter, purporting to have been written by the convicts, declared, "You will find your deputies in the Kokomo stone quarry."

As the hours passed, fears for the deputies grew. If their "prisoners" were free by Tuesday noon, the deputies, had they been overcome and left helpless in some woods or deserted building, would have been 72 hours without food today.

The prisoners, John Burns and Samuel Baxter, were being taken to the state reformatory at Pendleton, Ind., to serve five years for burglary.

Deputy Sheriffs Wallace McClure and John Grove left with them in an automobile.

Extensive Man Hunt Under Way In Indiana

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 10.—The most extensive manhunt in Indiana history spread in circles from Lafayette today as American Legion members, deputies, police and private citizens sought two deputy sheriffs and two convicted burglars, missing since 6 a. m., Tuesday.

The "prisoners," unaccompanied, were reported to have been seen at Danville, Ill., late Tuesday morning.

BLAZE IN VERDUGO HILLS CONQUERED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10—A forest fire, which swept over 400 acres of land in the Verdugo hills, was under control today after a 27-hour battle, the county fire warden's office said.

The blaze broke out early yesterday, when the high wind, which swept over Southern California, tore down a high power electric line.

Another fire burned over 100 acres in the Arroyo Seco early yesterday, but soon was put under control.

FEAR MEN IN SHAFT MAY SUFFOCATE

Blaze Caused by Spontaneous Combustion Breaks Out in Canada Workings

NO DANGER OF BLAST

Believe Flames Will Not Reach Dynamite Stored 1800 Feet Underground

(By United Press)

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 10.—Four miners were known to be dead and 35 others were believed trapped on the 550-foot level of the Hollinger Consolidated gold mine at Timmins, where fire broke out today.

Five hundred men were working in and around the mine when the fire started.

Spontaneous combustion caused the fire.

All but 35 of the 500 were accounted for this afternoon.

The bodies recovered were identified as those of Martin Stevens, T. T. Graham, George Pond and a man named Dunlop.

It was said there was no danger of the fire reaching dynamite and powder stored on the 1800-foot base of the mine.

Smoke and flames were pouring down the shaft and fear was expressed those trapped might die of suffocation even before the fire could burn its way down the shaft.

Timmons is about 240 miles north of Toronto, in Ontario's mining area. The Hollinger mine is the largest in Canada and one of the largest in the world. It employs 2000 men.

On November 30, last, unfilled tonnage was 3,454,444; on October 31, 1927, 3,341,050 tons, and on Jan. 31, 1927, 3,800,177 tons.

REVISION OF POSTAL RATES IS REQUESTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—An appeal for general revision of postal rates was made in the house late today by Representative Kelly, Republican, Pennsylvania, member of the post office committee now considering reductions.

The $28,000,000 post office department deficit should not prevent congress reducing rates, he said, as the post office is for the service of the people and present rates are so high that the public cannot pay for the service.

MIDDLE WEST URGES SHRINE ON U. S. UNITY

By LESTER ZIFFREN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10.—Along a picturesque stone road, marking the Kansas-Missouri boundary, is the proposed location for a national shrine to the territorial unity of the United States.

Overlooking the projected memorial is the ground which will be broken shortly for the Lincoln and Lee university campus.

Executives of Lincoln and Lee university are seeking congressional support for a shrine in the form of an amphitheater that will symbolize the nation's oneness. They desire that congress build or aid financially the construction of a memorial in which the body of an unknown Confederate soldier and the body of an unknown Union soldier from Civil war battlefields would be buried side by side.

The board of trustees of Lincoln and Lee, a non-sectarian institution having Protestants, Jews and Catholics on its board, has endorsed a movement motivated by patriotic societies for the building of a shrine "to commemorate the valor of the soldiers of the north and south, and to evidence the complete reunion of all parts of the country."

Declaring Kansas City, in former border territory, is practically the geographical center of the United States, the board has tendered a location upon the university campus on the line dividing the states of Kansas and Missouri.

In a resolution to that effect, the board pointed out the significance of the university's title, saying the name Lincoln typifies the north, and Lee that of "the beloved southerner."

Bishop E. L. Waldorf, president of the board, said governors of both Kansas and Missouri and congressmen from both states have promised support of the project, in addition to that offered by city officials, the federated churches, civic organizations and the chamber of commerce. Congress probably will not be asked to aid until work is started upon the school's administration building, Bishop Waldorf explained.

"We desire that congress build a memorial here in the heart of America, upon the line that divides two states that fought for different causes during the Civil war," he said. "It would be appropriate in demonstrating the present unity of the country.

"With congress' aid, it would be a significant undertaking to erect a memorial, perhaps an open air arena, where all patriotic gatherings in this section might be held.

"If our object wins universal consent and approbation, the project might be broadened into one of international scope by bringing bodies of unknown soldier dead representing all countries to this shrine."

It is proposed to build the memorial upon the road denoting the state line, diverting the highway around the sides of the shrine so that it will be both in Kansas and Missouri.

This neighborhood is getting so jazzy that by the time I get ready to pay my income tax I'll probably be nut enough to pay on the first million, and everybody knows I'm working on my second.

NATIONS WON'T TANGLE SELVES WITH POLITICS

(By United Press)

HAVANA, Feb. 10.—Proposals that would have given the Pan American union political power and made it an approach to an American League of Nations, went down to decisive defeat by a vote of 12 to six at the Pan American conference otday.

Many delegates believed today that failure of the Pan American union sub-committee to reach an agreement on a preamble for a Pan American union convention and the deadlock in the sub-committee on codification of international law over states rights, had jeopardized seriously success of the sixth Pan American conference.

These two points are principal topics of the agenda of the conference, it was pointed out, although U. S. delegates said failure of agreement on code of international law would not mean failure of the conference.

The project of placing the Pan-American union on a convention basis was practically in discard today. Honorio Pueyrredon, of the Argentina delegation, insisted that before he would acquiesce to any convention or resolution, his proposal for economic co-operation must be included in the preamble.

This is opposed by the sub-committee and Pueyrredon insisted he would not retreat from his stand.

FOX' CASE TO BE CARRIED TO HIGHEST COURT

Cantillon's office late yesterday by her son, Alfred.

It is feared that the mother, once confined to an insane asylum, may suffer another mental collapse.

South's Most Horrible Crime

The Hickman verdict virtually brought to a close the most horrible crime in the history of the southwest.

It was almost two months ago that William Edward Hickman went to the Mt. Vernon school and, on the pretext that her father had been injured in an automobile accident, lured his victim from school.

For three days he held the Pacific coast in a grip of terror through his weird ransom letters and on the third day butchered the child and returned her mutilated body to her father for $1500.

The fiend then fled into the northwest, where he was captured and returned to Los Angeles to stand trial after authorities had spirited him into the city in fear of mob violence.

On January 25, Walsh and Cantillon began their fight to send him to an asylum, maintaining that the slayer was insane and did not know the difference between right and wrong

Praised By Keyes

That they made a brilliant defense was evidenced in the closing argument of District Attorney Asa Keyes, who paid tribute to the youthful attorneys in unstinted praise.

"They made an admirable fight," the gray haired prosecutor declared. "I have not the slightest doubt that they were sincere in their contention. It was a praiseworthy struggle for one who did not deserve it."

Basing their plea upon depositions which outlined the Hickmans of the Ozarks as a family of lunatics and tracing the brilliant young student's murder to mental depression which followed over-study and the loss of a high school debate, the defense attorneys had hoped for a disagreement.

The speed with which the jury of eight men and four women returned the verdict set a new record for procedure in a murder trial in Los Angeles county.

Fox Doesn't Flinch

Hickman never flinched as the two verdicts—one dealing with the kidnaping and the other with the murder, were read in the unemotional voice of the clerk.

Judge Trabucco, however, with difficulty retained his dignified composure as he set date for Hickman's sentence, and the slayer arose and almost fled from the courtroom.

"They'll hang me," Hickman had told Attorney Cantillon as he awaited the verdict.

The jury failed to dispute his prediction.

Judge Trabucco said today that he had not yet determined what the sentence would be, but that the "defendant will be given all the consideration the law allows."

ROME'S SALONS MAY BE ABOLISHED SOON

ROME, Feb. 10.—One of Rome's oldest and strongest, if at the same time most insidious institutions—the Roman "salon"—is beginning to be threatened wtih extinction under an avalanche of Fascism.

Almost uninterruptedly since the time of Lucrezia Borgia, epoch-making policies of state have been decided and unmade over the tea cups of Rome's leading society women. For centuries it was impossible for amibitious politicians to "arrive" if the leaders of aristocratic Roman society, because of personal jealousies or other reason, whispered thumbs down. But Fascism is determined to change all that.

The rumblings of the onslaught against the last entrenchment of life under the former regimes were heard last week when the first of a series of articles entitled "Anti-Snobbism," was published by the Fascist journal, Impero, written by Mario Carli, whom the trite expression, "the storm petrel of Fascism," fits fairly well.

Carli points out that Fascism within five years has succeeded in dominating virtually every phase of Italian life. It has succeeded in making the national press entirely subservient to its wishes; it has abolished popular elections and set up a completely self-appointed directorate of national affairs over the whole Italian people; it has cut most of the red tape with which Italian bureaucracy was encumbered, and has even stifled life out of political discussions in the public cafes and hotel lobbies.

But Carli admits that Fascism so far has failed to make its influence felt appreciably in the "salons" of Roman society. Tea drinkers with individuality still lean to the political philosophy of liberalism and democracy and still insist on speaking their minds freely, and so far their discussions have not been curtailed.

LITTLE GIRL HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

Lela Slaback, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Slaback, 418 West Pine street, was slightly injured at noon today when she ran out in front of an automobile driven by Carl Lykke, Santa Ana, near the Santa Ana high school.

The little girl was knocked down and dragged several feet, it was said. She was taken to the office of a Santa Ana physician and later removed to her home. The injuries consist of bruised ankle and arm, it was reported.

GIRL KIDNAPER AND WOULD-BE SLAYER NABBED

BULLETIN

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Feb. 10.—Michigan's swift justice was demonstrated again today when Lester Daniels, 21, pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault on Helen Gillett, 5-year-old girl. Daniels was remanded to await sentence at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

(By United Press)

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Feb. 10.—Lester Daniels, 21, sought as the kidnaper and attempted slayer of 5-year-old Helen Gillett, was arrested today and sent to a hospital for an examination as to his sanity. He had eluded capture for more than 15 hours.

Watson Gillett, father of Helen, said he went in search of the child when she failed to answer his calls for supper last night. When he approached a shack near his home he heard his daughter screaming.

The door was fastened from the inside. He broke it open and saw a youth holding a long butcher knife with his teeth and the child with his hands.

The youth escaped after threatening to kill Gillett with the knife, but later was captured.

Helen's clothing had been torn from her body and her arms were severely bruised. Otherwise she was uninjured.

Chief of Police Hugh Gordon believed another murder, similar to the Hickman and Hotelling crimes, was prevented by the arrival of the girl's father.

Woman, 67, Takes Daily Ocean Swim

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Anna E. Van Skike, 67-year-old mermaid, is having her daily swim in the ocean as an aid to retaining her youth.

Every day during the winter months unless duties about the household demand an occasional lapse, Mrs. Van Skike may be seen on the beach sands or taking a dip in the surf.

She celebrated her last birthday by swimming 12 miles. And she expects to keep this up until she is a century old, she says.

imately $147,000,000 for the new program over the nine-year period plus a regular maintenance appropriation each year, which will run between $300,000,000 and $3[illegible].

The $4,176,426,000 includes airplanes and aviation personnel necessary to man the five aircraft carriers and 25 cruisers provided in the program. A total of 1400 new planes would be necessary.

An increase of 20,000 men would be required to man the new ships, which include, besides cruisers and aircraft carriers, 32 submarines and nine destroyer leaders.

Ducks Take Swim In Pool Of Booze

ARCO, Idaho, Feb. 10.—"If the ocean was whiskey, and I was a duck."

And now the circumstances depicted in the ungrammatical song has developed.

Federal agents raided a ranch in Pass Creek canyon. They dumped 225 gallons of liquor. It trickled down the dry creek bed and formed a pool.

Ducks, reared on the desert and thirsting for things wet, discovered the pool, and went swimming.

The officers failed to relate whether they "dived to the bottom and never come up."

King Tut's Mask Saved By Firemen

CAIRO, Feb. 10.—King Tutankhamen is still safe, though for a while things were a bit too hot for him.

What might have proved to be an irreparable loss to archeology and science was narrowly averted at the museum of antiquities here by the prompt action of the Cairo fire brigade. Tutankhamen's gold coffin and face mask were imperiled when fire broke out in the new section now being added to the museum building.

HELD TO ANSWER ON LIQUOR SALE COUNT

Charged with sale of intoxicating liquor, L. E. Lopez, Anaheim, was held to answer to the superior court at the conclusion of his preliminary examination in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, yesterday afternoon. He was released on his own recognizance.

C. N. Mozley, counsel for the defendant attempted to have the action dismissed on the grounds that a jury had disagreed on a verdict when Lopez was tried here last week on a charge of possession of liquor. He is under bail on the original charge, which the court deemed sufficient.

Dogs Stop Train, Save Master From Death On Rails

WADENA, Iowa, Feb. 10.—To his two dogs, who stopped an approaching train when he fell unconscious on a railroad track near here, G. P. Clark believes he owes his life. With their master lying between the rails, Treve, a Scotch collie, took his place beside the body and Freckles, a coach dog, ran barking down the track to meet the train. The fireman noticed that something was wrong and the train was stopped.

The coach dog was found on the pilot of the engine, fighting and barking, and the collie was barking loudly from his position beside his master.

The name "Audrey" is of Teutonic origin and means "noble threatener."

TWO FINED $500 ON POSSESSION CHARGE

Two defendants arrested on liquor charges in the recent district attorney's county raid, pleaded guilty to possession of liquor in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning and were each fined $500. They were Rudy Goetz, Santa Ana, and Bill Smith, Olive.

Both men previously had been charged with sale of liquor, it was said, and had pleaded not guilty. With a change in the charges, they agreed to change their pleas.

W. L. H. BENTON WILL RESIGN LOCAL PULPIT

The Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah here for the past eleven years, will tender his resignation at a meeting of the vestry to be held at the church at 7:45 o'clock tonight, it became known today.

At the same time it was revealed by the Rev. Mr. Benton himself that he had accepted appointment by Bishop William Bertrand Stevens to the Episcopal church at La Crescenta, located near La Canada. The resignation will become effective March 12, the rector stated. His successor has not been named.

The retiring rector has made himself popular in Santa Ana through his many activities outside of his regular church affairs, and the announcement that he will leave his post here will come as a big surprise to hundreds of his friends.

Under his administration the membership of the church here has doubled and the activities of the organization have increased in many ways.

Members of the Santa Ana lodge of Elks will attend the services at the church Sunday evening in compliment to the rector, the Rev. Mr. Benton being a member of the lodge. Attendance at the church originally was scheduled for a week from Sunday night, but when it became known that he is to leave the local church arrangements were made for the lodgmen to be present next Sunday evening.

WM. WORSWICK HEIRS BEGIN COURT ACTION

Heirs of William Worswick, who died here December 13, 1927, today started action in the superior court against Robert L. Hill, alleging that he secured deeds to $13,000 worth of property through undue influence over Worswick, thereby cutting the heirs from their inheritance.

Claudia Worswick is the widow of Aldric Worswick, son of William Worswick. The son died in 1925. Hill is the brother of Claudia Worswick and is said to be in San Diego. The heirs asserted in their complaint, filed by C. D. Swanner, that the two had poisoned the elder Worswick's mind against them, telling him that they had no affection for him and had not answered his letters.

They aver that when the deeds are alleged to have been made, he was not competent to transfer the property. The reason for the heirs supposedly failing to write to Worswick is alleged to be that Claudia Worswick intercepted their correspondence and failed to mail letters from her father-in-law to them.

Three houses in Santa Ana, in Huntington square, valued at $15,000, and $1500 in cash, are involved in the suit, the heirs asking that the deeds be declared void and that their rights to inherit the property be upheld. Worswick lived at 1002 Olive street. He was 80 years of age at the time of his death.

The heirs are said to reside in the vicinity of Oakland and in the Middle West.

Police News

Charged with being drunk, F. H. McMahon, 28, 502 West Fifth street, was arrested early last night and lodged in the county jail.

An automobile owned by E. E. Mann, 514 West Bishop street, was reported stolen last night from in front of his home. The car had no top. Officers were given a description.

Juan Lopez, 22, Riverside resident, was lodged in the county jail last night by Deputy Sheriff George Bartley. He was booked on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

CONSTANT TEMPERATURE

The third of seven scientific reasons why ice is king of all refrigerants for the home

EVERY GOOD COOK knows that a constant oven heat is essential to proper cooking.

Likewise in Refrigeration a constant even temperature is important. Sudden and rapid changes in temperature break down the cellular structure of foods—hasten decomposition and drying-out.

It is also important that a change in temperature inside your refrigerator should take place with gradual regularity.

It is equally important, therefore, that the temperature of your REFRIGERANT should be constant.

Ice to remain Ice must always be 32 degrees cold—it cannot vary so long as the laws of nature remain laws.

A correctly designed and insulated refrigerator properly supplied with this constant temperature refrigerant knows no superior.

DRIVE WORKERS FOR C. OF C. TO MEET TONIGHT

Men engaged on the drive for new mebmers for the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce are expected to report results of the work yesterday and today at a meeting of the entire group to be held at 7:30 o'clock, tonight, at the office of the chamber.

One hundred men are assisting in the campaign and a good majority of them have given some time to their canvassing work each day, according to reports from the office of the chamber.

Pointing out that each solicitor had been given the names of a definite number of persons to see, S. W. Estes sr., chairman of the drive committee, said today that all workers would be expected to continue their soliciting until they have seen each prospect. It is hoped to clean up the campaign within a week.

Team men have been received with the greatest consideration by prospective members upon whom they have called, according to reports made by the canvassers.

Pointing out that the chamber has an active program of work outlined for the year, Estes said that an increased membership would make it possible for the organization to achieve results by reason of increased influence and stronger financial backing.

"Every resident and every property owner benefits by the operations of the chamber and it should be the pride of those financially able to do so to help in the organization in financing its activities," Estes said.

DAMAGE SUIT FOR $23,200 STARTS TODAY

Mrs. Sarah Baker, of Corona limped to the witness stand.

"After we slowed down and turned the corner, I thought I heard an airplane. I looked back and saw a car coming. I said 'My God, they're going to hit us.' The driver of the car reared back as he put his foot on the brake."

"What is the first thing you remember after the crash?" asked her attorney, Bertrand Wellman.

"The first thing I recalled was my husband telling them to lift the car off me."

"Now tell the jury whether you continue to suffer pain from your injuries," suggested Wellman.

"The hide was all scraped off one leg, the ligaments were torn and that leg is shorter than the other. I still have pain in my hip."

Whether Mrs. Baker and her husband, Snowden W. Baker, will recover $23,200 from A. C. Bowers and H. W. Nelson, of Santa Ana, as a result of an accident, in July, 1926, at the intersection of Red Hill road and Irvine boulevard, may be decided today or tomorrow in the superior court.

But if they do not, it is possible that Margaret Goepper, of Balboa, may get judgment against the Bakers for $5050. She was a passenger in the Bowers car and received several broken ribs in the crash. She has brought a separate suit against Baker and his wife, but both are being tried at the same time. She, with Bowers and Nelson, are represented by Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus.

Superior Judge G. L. Freeman, of Riverside, is hearing the case in the absence of Judge E. J. Marks, who is in Santa Barbara.

STOCK SUFFERING

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—Live stock is suffering terribly on the ranches of southern Alberta, due to the bitterness of the winter. A real chinook, or warm break, has not visited the ranch districts.

SENTENCED TO COUNTY JAIL IN RUM CASE

Despite the somewhat confusing testimony of Mrs. Eulla Carrillo, his neighbor on West Third street, Eloio Saldana today had received a six months sentence in the county jail for selling liquor. Saldana is one of 46 who were arrested recently in the raid launched by District Attorney Z. B. West jr. and Sheriff Sam Jernigan.

Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman, the jury and court observers managed to suppress several smiles yesterday when Mrs. Carrillo was on the stand. Charles Carrillo conveyed her testimony to the court and the witness chewed her gum vigorously during the intervals while the interpreter was talking.

"I am never idle," she declared in answer to one of Kaufman's queries. Not perceiving the relation of the answer to his question, Kaufman tried several other tacks. Apparently Mrs. Carrillo did not remember anything about the points in which the attorney was interested, but she did tell the court that she was ready to work at any time for anyone who was willing to hire her. There were no offers recorded yesterday.

Mrs. Carrillo left the stand triumphantly chewing her gum, and looking neither to left nor right.

Kaufman cross-examined several other witnesses produced by Morris Cain, attorney for Saldana, apparently with different results.

Deep-Seated Rheumatic Pains

Quickly Yield to Powerful Penetrating Oil

Probably no affliction is more common or responsible for more intense suffering than rheumatism. Thousands of otherwise robust persons drag through a life of misery and agony.

Here is a new treatment. Simply get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil, and apply to the affected parts. It's easy and pleasant to use and there is no doubt but what the most stubborn and severe cases yield quickly to its powerful, penetrating influence. The first application brings blessed relief. All good druggists have it, but you can be sure to get it at Santa Ana Drug.

Regular users of Moone's Emerald Oil should buy the new hospital size.—Adv.

Given Five Days On Speed Charge

Pleading guilty to speeding 54 miles an hour on Sulphur Slide, Santa Ana canyon road, on January 22, F. R. Conway, colored, was sentenced to serve five days in the county jail, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning.

He was arrested by State Traffic Officer C. J. Cain. Conway lives at 1196 Fiftieth street, Los Angeles. He told the court that another machine got in his way and so he passed it.

Judge Morrison granted Conway until Wednesday to arrange his business and start his jail sentence.

COAST ASSOCIATION MEETING AT SAN CLEMENTE PLANS FOR ADVERTISING BEACH CITIES

SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 10.—More than $12,000 will be expended for advertising and publicity by the Orange County Coast association during 1928, if plans outlined here last night before representatives of every community from Seal Beach to San Clemente are carried out.

Reporting for the advertising committee of the organization, J. S. Farquhar of Huntington Beach, presented a comprehensive plan of consistent publicity for the Orange county communities along the coast. The scope of the plan to call the public's attention to the coast communities includes publicity, advertising, folders, billboards, magazines and seals and slogans. One slogan suggested was "The Gold Coast of the Golden State."

Full co-operation of the board of supervisors was pledged by Dr. F. W. Slabaugh who offered the publicity facilities of the county for furthering the publicity plans of the association. The funds necessary to carry on the work will be raised through the aid of the county, chambers of commerce and realty operators, it was announced.

Members of the advertising committee, of which L. J. Burrud of Dana Point, is chairman, and Mr. Farquhar is vice president, include J. S. Malcolm, E. O. Hanson, Hal Forrest, K. I. Fulton, G. C. Macleod, D. G. Duncan and H. H. Newton.

Last night's meeting was attended by more than 60 members of the coast association. Dinner was served at Travaglini's Cafe San Clemente, where a variety of entertainment was provided. Music throughout the dinner was furnished by San Clemente's musical cut-ups known as "Mary and Her Lambs." Ted Bates and R. G. Gore offered several musical and vocal numbers. The entertainment features were provided under the direction of Hal F. Warner.

Meet at San Clemente

The business session was held at the San Clemente club. It was presided over by J. P. Greeley of Balboa, president of the organization.

Secretary Harry Welch of Newport Beach, president of the association, read a communication from Gov. C. C. Young pledging full cooperation in the efforts of the organization to preserve Orange county's magnificent stretch of beach for the people. The governor's letter read in part as follows:

"I have at hand your letter of January 13 referring to our desire to do all that we can to preserve our California beaches. It is too bad that our people did not awake to this situation a dozen years ago when it might have been possible to have secured a large portion of our beach land at comparatively low cost. I believe that it is imperative now to do everything which can be done to save to the enjoyment of the public the small portion which is left."

Progress in plans for the widening of roads along the coast was outlined by Mr. Welch in the absence of S. H. Woodruff, head of the highway and roads committee.

Other members of the committee include Hal F. Warner, Carl Hankey, H. H. Henshaw, T. C. Hitchings, J. J. Schnitker, Joshua H. Marks, T. B. Talbert, J. A. Armitage and P. A. Stanton.

Reports Made

A report of the park committee was made by chairman H. H. Henshaw of Laguna Beach. The report pointed out the need for a park along Orange County's coastline where it could be enjoyed 12 months in the year.

The committee on water conservation, of which W. B. Mandeville is chairman, submitted a report. An informal discussion followed regarding the proposed change in the outfall of the San Gabriel River at Seal Beach, and a resolution is to be presented at the next meeting of the organization.

A discussion was also held regarding water conservation in Orange County.

B. H. Cass made a report for the marine development committee, outlining plans for the dredging of channels along the coast and especially around Newport. Other members of the comittee includes J. B. McNally, George Vibert, William McCoy, Don Douglas, Frank Smith, and J. A. Beck.

Mr. Cass also extended an invitation for the organization to hold its next meeting at the Newport Harbor Yacht Club the second Thursday in March. By popular vote the invitation was accepted.

PIANO CLASSES TO BE FORMED IN S. A. SCHOOLS

The opportunity is being offered to beginners in piano to receive lessons in the public schools.

This makes it possible for parents to determine whether or not their children have ability before they spend money for private lessons. It also arouses an interest on the part of many.

Any child between the ages of 8 and 14 may be enrolled. Only those who have not had piano before or who have had only two or three months of work and have since discontinued it are eligible.

The classes for the coming semester will be held on Saturday mornings at Roosevelt school, on First street, between Maple and French streets. Saturday, February 11, is the last date on which students may be enrolled for this semester. Those who have not already enrolled should try to be there at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

If further information is desired, call Miss Gladys Campbell of Roosevelt school or Mrs. Frances Beeson, director of music in the city schools.

This plan of class piano instruction is being adopted in a number of the leading progressive cities in the United States and is approved of by prominent musicians.

OXY PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS BEFORE LIONS

Recounting points in the life history of Abraham Lincoln, and calling attention to qualifications that made him one of the outstanding figures in the political history of this nation, Dr. R. G. Cleland, vice president of Occidental college, Los Angeles, declared in address at the meeting of the Lions club yesterday, that the martyred president's greatest moral courage was shown when he stood out against the environment of his boyhood and young manhood life and directed a course that later made it possible for him to achieve fame in life.

Pointing out that one of the important things in Lincoln's life was the way his character gripped the people of this nation and foreign lands, and commenting on the fact that his honesty and integrity were cardinal factors in impressing the world with the civil war president, the speaker drew the lesson for the modern youth by stressing a statement that a boy possessed of honesty and integrity can achieve an ambition against other handicaps which he might possess.

"A real man can be builded from a boy who is possessed of honesty and integrity and a boy without these qualities may make some advancement, but he will crumble in time," the educator said.

Jud House officiated as program chairman and in addition to the speaker presented William Horton in a group of oboe solos, accompanied on the piano by Alan Revill.

Stomach Troubles That Are Dangerous

Cut This Out

Some forms of stomach trouble, if neglected, often lead to dangerous conditions—ulcers or cancers—then, a surgical operation is about the only hope.

For this reason, even the most simple stomach ailments should be given prompt and careful attention. So, don't neglect acid stomach, sourness, gas or bloating! And don't waste time with unknown or unreliable treatments. At the very first signs of distress, go to any good drug store and obtain a few cents' worth of pure Bisurated Magnesia. This special Magnesia Compound is safe and pleasant to take—quickly, almost instantly, effective and does not act as a laxative. Be sure and ask for BISURATED Magnesia for stomach troubles only.—Adv.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS SCORE GREAT SUCCESS ON FIRST NIGHT OF 'LOVE IN A MIST'

By ROCH BRADSHAW

And then Diana lied again.

Just as she seemed to have fought her way to happiness through the maze of falsehood she had built around herself and her two lovers, the heroine again lighted the fires of jealousy with a ruthless bit of perjury in the third act that seemed to plunge her deeper than ever into the furnace of hatred.

"Love in a Mist," the first play of the Santa Ana Community Players' 1928 season, directed by Mrs. Marion Helm Williams, justified all that has been said of it last night when Mona Summers Smith, Emil Foust, Herschel Clayton and Mrs. Williams, with an excellent supporting cast, introduced it to Santa Ana and Southern California in a well balanced performance at the Temple theater.

Julia H. Hyde brought to the stage a character that probably was more difficult than it looked, while Mabel C. Larrick gave a negro interpretation that won the audience in a way that was very nearly equalled by Rex Hoover, in another black face part.

The dramatic climax of the second act stood out as an especially creditable achievement to which the whole cast contributed, while the final period picked up again the thread of sparkling comedy which ran throughout the play.

Mona Summers Smith, as Diana Wynne, tangles herself in a web of white lies that eventually brings her face to face with two men to whom she is supposed to be engaged at the same time. Both demand an explanation which she is unable to give and she loses not only the one she loves, but the one she has pretended to love. Her performance rang true throughout the play.

Foust Scores

Emil Foust, as Count Scipione Varelli, her youthful and exuberant lover, captured the audience with his acting at this point when his spontaniety was somewhat encompassed by disaster and he was faced by the masterful playing of Herschel Clayton as his rival, George Farnham. The work of Clayton, a capable and confident young explorer, and that of Foust, as the Italian, balanced each other exceptionally well.

A shot off stage as the second act closes, electrifies the actors a moment after Verelli leaves. In the final act the young count appears in a wheel chair, and this has much to do with his final capture of Sydney Rose, who takes Diana's place in Varelli's heart.

Considerable credit is due Mrs. Marion Helm Williams, who not only directed the production, but, at the last minute, took the part of Sydney Rose, Diana's sister, when Ellinore Thatcher, who had rehearsed for the part, was suddenly was taken ill. Mrs. Williams handled the character with grace and ease.

In the third act, Mabel Larrick and Rex Hoover extracted the maximum amount of comedy available from a short scene in which Count Varelli's wheel chair almost throws Miss Larrick (Kizzy) for a loss. Hoover, as Colin, another darkey, gains a point on Kizzy here, and marches off in triumph with the chair rolling before him.

Scenery Fine

The setting of the drama, the home of the Wynnes, looking out on the Blue Ridge mountains, was a credit to its makers, Eleanor M. Harnois, Pearl Gamblin, Frances Battey, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilson, Mrs. Frank Lansdown, Helen Battey, Vera Morrison and Helen Bows.

Costumes, under the direction of Miss Ruth Rowland, Mrs. William Spurgeon and Miss Mabel Whiting, were cause for comment, while the work of gathering properties was smoothly handled by Mrs. Julia B. Cummings, Mrs. Verna Wellington and Thomas Glenn.

Ernest Crozier Phillips, Juanita Fletcher and Doris Bingham were responsible for the makeup.

Hazel Nell Bemus was technical director, Charles C. Brisco, stage manager, and Norman Crede, master electrician.

The Elwood Bear string quartet provided musical entertainment between acts. Bear, Miss Emalina Richards, William Fox and Marian Nau were responsible for the work.

The drama will be offered again tonight and also on Saturday night, beginning at 8:15.

Woman Suffrage Is Before French

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The question of woman suffrage will be brought before parliament again. The principle of votes for women has been approved more than once by the chamber, but hitherto it has always been rejected by the senate. A new bill, admitting women to the franchise and making them eligible for public office, has been introduced into the senate and it is understood that the cabinet has decided to support it to the extent of admitting women to vote in municipal elections.

Here is another Lincoln story that we thought it wouldn't hurt anyone to read.

In 1846 when Abe was running for congress his opponent was an evangelist named Peter Cartwright. Lincoln attended one of his evangelistic meetings one night, but remained seated when Cartwright invited sinners to come forward. Spying him, the evangelist called, "Mr. Lincoln, if you are not going to repent and go to Heaven where are you going?" "I am going to congress," replied Lincoln. And he did.

POLY FRENCH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Miss Mary Cianfoni was elected president of the French club of the Santa Ana high school at a recent meeting of the organization. Other officers who were elected included Marguerite Lentz, vice president; Margaret Whitlock, secretary; Jean Rowland, treasurer; and Geneva McMath, generator reporter.

Out going officers were Mary Cianfoni, Robert Northcross, Elpha Thorndyke, Jean Rowland and Wylie Carlyle.

The brief program which followed the election included two songs by a trio consisting of Mary Jean Nickel, Helen Slabaugh, and Florence Nutten. Other selections were given by Marion Jacobs, Virginia Golden, Aline Calashine, and Selma Smith.

STATE COMMANDER DODSON ADDRESSES 300 MEMBERS OF SANTA ANA LEGION POST

Addressing almost 300 ex-service men, business men, politicians and other guests of Santa Ana post, 131, American Legion, State Commander Phil A. Dodson, South Pasadena, brought a message of peace to Santa Ana last night.

He reviewed the activities of the American Legion since its origin, almost 10 years ago, when the greatest of American armies was being demobilized and declared that because of the Legion at that time this country was the only one of the allied nations in the war that was able to demobilize without allowing it to affect the economical situation of the nation.

Since that time the Legion has grown in leaps and bounds, the speaker declared, and has taken on peace time work of the greatest importance, until today it stands as the greatest agency for peace in the nation.

The visit of the state commander to Santa Ana was the occasion for the largest meeting, in point of attendance, in the history of the Santa Ana organization. Legion men and their friends jammed the home on Birch street a half hour before the appointed time and there was a scramble for seats when the doors were opened.

Commander Dodson was visibly affected by the large gathering and declared at the start that it probably was a waste of time telling Santa Ana Legionnaires things that should be done and were needed, feeling, he said, that the Santa Ana post exemplified everything that a Legion post should. He complimented the post on its past activities and intimated that it was one of the best in the state.

Child Welfare

Going back to the value of the American Legion to the nation, Dodson declared that the efforts made by the organization throughout the nation in its child welfare work and the work of caring for the disabled ex-service men during the past nine years had been remarkable, but that the Legion was only beginning in its great work. Its work, he declared, was laid out on lines that would make the country's entire resources, and all of its man power available, rich and poor alike, should this country be plunged into another war.

One of the programs for this year is the establishment of airports in all cities where one is justified, Dodson declared. The Legion has taken up aeronautics, both as a national defense and as a community service, he said. He complimented the Orange county supervisors on the manner in which it approached the erecting of a field, by appointing an advisory board, declaring it to be the proper method.

Dodson declared that the Boy Scout program of the American Legion was the most worthwhile work being done by the American Legion concerning the building of citizens and that it was the solution of the crime problem.

Praises Scouts

Men who were boy scouts are not found in the penal institutions, Dodson declared, and the boy scouts are the solution of the citizenship problem, he said. The weakest point in the boy scout program within the Legion is the troop committees, he declared, recommending that all posts appoint the best men available for such work. He also recommended that this and other posts organize sea scout "ships," this organization being for older youths.

Reviewing the work of the American Legion during the past year, Dodson announced that one bill had passed both houses of congress, appropriating $200,000 for the building of a mess hall at the Sawtelle Soldiers' home and that another bill calling for the building of fireproof billets at Sawtelle had passed the lower house and that every assurance had been given that it would be passed in the senate.

He declared this to be the biggest legislative piece now confronting the California American Legion, and its completion would mean that soldiers of the World war, the Spanish-American war and others would have a permanent home where they could live without fear of being burned alive, as has been the case for a number of years.

Dodson urged members of the Santa Ana post to aid in the Legion's work of reforestation. He pointed out sections of the country which formerly exported lumber but which today are importing it. Both Maine and Michigan have reached this stage, he declared.

To Plant Trees

Every post in the state has been asked to plant 100 trees this year. This, Dodson said, will show the community the value of reforestation and at the same time beautify some park or playground.

His closing remarks told of the American Legion's convention in Paris last fall and of the spirit shown by the French people toward America. He denied all rumors to the effect that anything but the best of feeling was shown at any time and said that the pilgrimage to France was probably the greatest peace move in the history of the country.

Dodson related bits of interest on another trip made by the state commanders of the Legion through France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium and England, which tended to show the friendly feeling that existed and declared that the trips bound even tighter the bonds of friendship between this country and the ones visited.

At the beginning of his talk last night, Commander Dodson told members that he formerly was a resident of Santa Ana, having attended the Santa Ana high school with Bert West, now district attorney, and with Stanley Reinhaus, well known attorney. He formerly carried the Tustin paper route for the Santa Ana Register, he said.

Guests Introduced

More than 50 guests were introduced at the meeting, including all members of the city council, Col. S. H. Finley, and William Schumacher of the county supervisors, Coroner Charles D. Brown, Miss Ada Williams, who was "Miss Florida;" E. B. Collier, city manager; William Jerome, county auditor; James Sleeper, county assessor; T. E. Stephenson, postmaster; W. B. Williams and Frank Was, of the First National bank; Joe Backs and Earl Abbey, of the county clerk's office; Mrs. Rowena Fults, president of the Legion auxiliary; Harry Cleveland, G. A. R.; the Rev. George A. Warmer, First Methodist church; various heads of luncheon service clubs; Alex Brownridge, Farmers and Merchants' Savings bank; J. K. Herman, First National bank, Los Angeles; Bruce Switzler, Junior Chamber of Commerce; S. B. West, district attorney; John Gowen, president of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association; C. E. Walker, West Coast - Walker theater; Charles Dixon, state commander of the Spanish War Veterans.

A number of state officers of the American Legion also were present.

The meeting started with a five-course dinner served by the Legion auxiliary.

An entertainment program given at the close of the dinner consisted of a vocal number by Robert Bradford; several numbers by Misses Edna and Alice Harkendorf, violin and piano with vocal choruses, and a comic monologue by Wayne Moore, director of the Little Art theater at Laguna Beach, and a member of the Laguna Beach post, American Legion. The entertainment was under the directorship of Ed Kolbe, who was presented with a membership in the Forty and Eight Society, for services rendered the post. During the serving of the dinner, the Jack Gledhill orchestra entertained with several numbers.

SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 10—Mr. and Mrs. James Silcox and daughter, Miss Dorothy, of Wichita, Kansas, and Mrs. C. A. Beard, of Lomita, joined Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Proctor and Miss Annie Bierhause, of Seal Beach, Thursday at Bixby park, where a picnic luncheon was enjoyed.

Mrs. Frank Hulce is recovering from an operation for appendicitis in the Fresno hospital. Mrs. Hulce is a former resident of Seal Beach and spends the summer vacations here with her small sons.

Mrs. Ellen Martin, who suffered a stroke of paralysis last summer, is sufficiently recovered as to be able to walk once more. Mrs. Martin has made her home with her son and family in Los Angeles since giving up her cottage on Eighth street.

The Lincoln Pioneers of Seal Beach are rapidly winning laurels since their first defeat at baseball by the Fortyniners in Long Beach. In this first game the score stood 10 to 1. The game with the Rangers was a 12 to 10 victory for the Seal Beach boys and last Saturday they defeated the Golden Bears of the First Christian church with a score of 20 to 6 in their favor. The game this week is with the Martin Lutherans.

Miss Ida Shupe will be hostess at an Epworth league party at her home at 130 Fifth street, February 14. The party will honor as special guests the newcomers in the community.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

W. B. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875) he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs and pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

ORANGE COUNTY WILL RECEIVE PAVING FUNDS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—If you put a Cadillac polish on a cut-down flivver, you don't change the nature of the flivver.

You don't have to be a car polisher to know that, says Will C. Wood, state superintendent of banks and former state superintendent of public instruction.

Neither do you have to be a scholastic pedagog to know that if you give a nit-wit a $100,000 education, he may still have a million dollar ignorance, says Wood.

William John Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, agrees with his predecessor, and has made every effort to combat the tendency of standardization of education, which results only in the waste of otherwise perfectly good money.

"It costs the state and Orange county $768.32 to put a boy or girl through school from the first to the eighth grade," Cooper said. "How do we know that the pupil will use his education to good advantage? One of the fine points of individualized instruction will be giving the pupil the courses of study that will benefit him most."

"Orange county's high schools and junior colleges do not constitute such a problem to the board. There are more elective courses in the curriculum. If a young fellow wants to be a chemist or an accountant, or if a girl wants to be a nurse or private secretary, the way is open for them to take those elective courses which will train them best for that kind of work."

As a move towards the stabilization of certain basic courses, the California curriculum, created by the 1927 legislature, will conduct a survey of the elementary school program with a view to adopting certain necessary courses in the Santa Ana schools, and leaving other courses open for the pupil's own choice.

7 Brothers Meet After 25 Years

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 10.—The seven McMahan brothers, natives of Rochester, Ind., sat down to dinner together for the first time in 26 years when they met at the home of Thomas McMahan here.

In addition to the seven boys there were five sisters. The boys figure their combined wealth at more than $3,000,000 and their weight at more than 200 pounds apiece, they said.

Five of the boys were born within six years and were constant chums of their youth. None of them smoke, chew or drink.

Four of the brothers left home in 1901 and later Thomas, 48; John, 34, and James, 31, came to California to establish furniture stores in Bakersfield and San Bernardino. The four remaining in the east have a large construction business. Otto, 46, is in the head office in Rochester, where he is assisted by Hugh, 45. William, 42, is a contractor at Decatur, Ill., and Patrick, 40, is located in Florida.

Of the five sisters, only two are now alive. They are living in Bakersfield. The father died five years ago and the mother 18 months ago. The brothers planned to motor to Bakersfield.

SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 10.—J. L. Padilla, of the Padilla company, Los Angeles, was a visitor in the Spanish village Thursday. Mr. Padilla had been on a trip to Rancho Santa Fe, San Diego and other Southern California communities taking photographs for the All Year Club of California. At San Clemente he stopped long enough to take a number of "shots" of the famous race horses and stables on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cotton.

Edward Wallach, of Los Angeles, was a visitor Wednesday. Wallach is working with the Ole Hanson organization in preparing an attractive display of hand-colored photographs for the big tent.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lewis, of Santa Ana, were among the recent visitors. Mr. Lewis is an orange grower of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Ellerby, who were married recently in the San Clemente club, brought as guests, Mrs. Catherine Shirley and daughter, Miss Callista Shirley.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wernicke, of Long Beach, were guests at the San Clemente club this week. Wernicke, who is an accomplished pianist, played several numbers for guests inspecting the club.

Mrs. Alice Spellings and her mother and son, Drennen, of Long Beach, visited San Clemente this week.

A party consisting of Mrs. James P. Townsend and daughter, Juliana, and father, W. James, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sherrill and daughter, Melvina, all of Los Angeles, were among the visitors here Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sisson, of Chicago, and Dr. Mary V. Church and Mrs. Laura B. Lytle, of Norwalk, composed a party visiting here this week. Dr. Sisson is connected with the Veterans' hospital in Chicago and Dr. Church with the state hospital at Norwalk.

Mrs. M. A. Erskine, of Sandusky, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lowry, of Youngstown, Ohio, all spending the winter in Colton, were guests of S. S. Gump on a trip to the Spanish village.

A large party from Santa Ana spent last Sunday in San Clemente, enjoying the beach and other features. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Houseman and daughter, Mrs. Lowe; Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Borgwardt and the Misses Harriett and Louise Johnson.

Wife Called Him Mule Skinner So He Gets Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Mule skinners have feelings, any judicial theories to the contrary notwithstanding, as J. E. Kell made plain to a superior court judge here. Kell appeared in court and procured a divorce from Grace Kell.

"She hurt my feelings," Kell said. "She called me a mule skinner. I operate a trained mule in the pictures and that lifts me out of the class of common mule skinner. Judge, I blushed when she used that name on me," Kell submitted.

"That settles it," the judge said. "A remark that would make a mule skinner blush certainly caused him mental anguish."

100 Pupils Aided In San Diego High

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 10—More than 100 senior high school students were aided in the last year by the student aid committee, Miss Elisabeth Freeze, girls' vice principal, said today.

An innovation in high school work, the aid committee expended approximately $800. The Scottish Rite Masons' fund, for boys only, contributed $500.

The money was used for carfares, lockers, towels, lunches and school necessities such as laboratory fees, art and sewing materials, school wearing apparel, senior dues, expenses pertaining to graduation, glasses and small home allowances.

Car Knows How To Start But Not Stop

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 10.—John T. Gould cranked his car in the business district here this morning while the car was in gear. The car knocked Gould to one side and dashed up the street at 30 miles an hour. Many cars were on the street but the runaway missed them all. It finally struck a traffic button, swerved, demolished a light standard, ripped up a mail box and turned over on its side. Aside from the jammed fenders and front bumper the car was undamaged.

Desert Character Passes In Nevada

GERLACH, Nev., Feb. 10.—"Ma" Hanan is dead.

"Ma," Mrs. Mattie Benoist Hanan, dressed in overalls, smoking a pipe, with her "six gun" swinging at her side, long was a familiar figure to this little desert town, where it is said that none are buried, save those who "died with their boots on."

"Hard boiled" was "Ma" to the world, but a few of her friends knew that in the breast of the woman who could "cuss" with the best of the "punchers" beat a truly feminine heart.

Her home was an example of the contradictions in her character. [illegible]

And "Ma" [illegible] to her intimate friends that she [illegible] longed for the nice things that other women wear, but silks and satins didn't suit the job of bossing a cow ranch at the edge of the Black Rock desert, so she wore overalls and "cussed" and she could handle a gun.

Her friends loved her and her enemies feared her.

Mrs. Hanan was a native of Eldorado county, California, and was 49 years old.

A few years ago a motion picture company produced a picture near Gerlach, and "Ma" wanted to join the company as an extra, and directors probably would have

THE TRUTH ABOUT BRAN AND CONSTIPATION

Thousands of people eat bran regularly for the healthful roughage it provides. It is a splendid practice. But be sure you are really getting all the roughage you need when you eat bran. Doctors say it takes 100% bran to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only accomplish part-way results. That is why they fail!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbled. Just two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

You'll like the flavor and crispness of ALL-BRAN. Serve with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Mix with other cereals. Sprinkle into soups. Use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The man who is forever "cussing" the weather is usually one who "cusses" at the slightest provocation."

If meat from this market is on the daily menu he will soon smile in all kinds of weather and forget to "cuss" at all.

freshmen had planned to their anual banquet in the e Shop tavern on the out- of Red Bank. They arranged for a police guard.

The freshmen arrived about dusk, 141 of them. A moment later a moving van pulled up. The police not being versed in the classics had no reason to suspect. They never had heard of the wooden horse.

Then the van opened. A hundred sophomores leaped out. Before the police could get into action they had loaded the van with protesting freshmen and carted them off to a remote woods and abandoned them.

The more stalwart freshmen barricaded themselves behind the banquet tables in the tavern. The air grew thick with crockery and fists. Chemical warfare began when somebody hit a freshman in the eye with a "stink bomb," driving the fighters into the open. Police took the injured to the hospital and waited for the others to collapse from exhaustion.

They collapsed, many half nude and frost bitten in the snow shortly before dawn. Four of them were arrested for disorderly conduct. The justice released them with suspended sentences.

Dean Fraser Metzer has issued an order against further such clashes and the freshmen's annual dinner has been postponed until the tavern can be repaired.

London Americans Plan Lincoln Day

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Celebrations of Lincoln's birthday here will be briefer than usual due to the fact that February 12 falls on Sunday.

During the morning a few of the handful of surviving members of the London Branch of the American Civil War Veterans will place wreaths on the Lincoln monument across the street from Westminster Abbey. As is their annual custom, the Veterans will hold a short memorial service at the monument. During the day other American organizations in London and a number of individuals will place wreaths and flowers on the monument.

The annual Lincoln day dinner will be held at the American Women's club during the evening.

"All that is left of my property I leave to my very good friend." No name or indication of the identity of the friend is given.

SAFEWAY STORES
DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

Our Idea of Service

"Service" is one of the most abused words in business language. It is used and misused by everybody until, in the public mind, it has come to have little or no meaning. In our organization the word "service" has a distinct meaning and embraces definite standards which every Safeway Man strives to live up to. Among these are honesty, courtesy, accuracy, knowledge, cleanliness, willingness, helpfulness, promptness, efficiency, pleasing personality and a genuine desire to truly serve. By "truly serve" we mean to keep constantly in mind the best interests of the customer and that larger service which calls for every effort to avoid waste in the distribution of the necessities of life. This is "Safeway Service."

PROSPECTS FOR ANOTHER MAJOR LEAGUE REMOTE

Organized Baseball Secure From Encroachment of Outside Capital, Belief

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The prospects for a "Federal" or third major league are as remote at present as they ever have been. High class ivory is too rare and valuable to encourage encroachment upon the domain of organized baseball.

The season of 1928, however will see more "big league" magnates, players, parks, and possibly ball playing in the International league than ever before, according to Fred Turbyville, who furnished us with choice bits of information about the senior Class AA circuit.

Walter Johnson, Jacques Fournier, Billy Southworth, and Bill Lamar are just a few of the major league stars who have recently signed," Turbyville pointed out in an interview with the United Press.

New Owners Wealthy

"Some of our new owners are going to put the International league, and keep it in the best shape it ever has known. Paul Block, owner at Newark, is one of the foremost advertising men in the United States. Lord Shaughnessy and Provincial Secretary David have a dozen millionaires as their associates in the control of the new Montreal club.

"We are the largest minor league in existence, with about 4,500,000 population in our cities. Montreal today is larger than nearly all the cities in the two major leagues. Baltimore is larger than many of them. Toronto, Newark and Buffalo rank with big league cities in size."

Parks Are Large Enough

Turbyville pointed out that International league parks make possible the seating of crowds large enough to ensure the circuit's prosperity in 1928. Montreal expects a crowd of 35,000 in its new park on opening day. Newark's park has been enlarged and now seats 20,000. Buffalo and Toronto have concrete stands holding between 15,000 and 20,000.

All of which would seem to indicate the gap between the majors and the Class AA group is not as wide as might sometimes be imagined. Walter Hapgood and George Stallings, who have had plenty of experience with big league baseball clubs, are quite satisfied with their lot in the International league and figure on making a lot of money out of their connection with the Montreal club.

TENDER CARE

Now that England has gone dog-crazy, the Britishers are taking as much care of their racers as is usually shown a prima donna. Here's an example of the treatment—an attendant at the Altcar Coursing club's meeting in Lancashire carrying R. Bank's prize Racing Rapids across the dyke to the course. The sport is fast becoming one of the most popular abroad.

COUNTY SCHOOL GOLFERS CLASH IN TOURNAMENT

For the first time in history, Orange county high schools will vie tomorrow in a golf tournament the first of a series of three to determine the championship of the district.

Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Orange, Fullerton, Tustin and probably Anaheim will send full squads to the Santa Ana Country club for the initial matches. Originally, it was proposed to put on the first day's play at Long Beach but this plan was not feasible, it was stated.

Players have been requested to report at No. 1 tee not later than 8:30 a. m.

G. A. ("Tex") Oliver, who has charge of the Santa Ana golfers, will select his team from the following players: Carl Gerhardt, Milo Ainsworth, Orville Schuchardt, Joe Warner, Van Pomeroy, Leslie Vaughn, Kenneth Prince, Newell Vandermast, Alfred Forcey, George Horton and David Hill.

S. A. TO HAVE WRESTLING SWIMMING TEAMS

Indicating still further progress in the world of athletic endeavor, Santa Ana high school this year will enter teams in swimming and wrestling in Coast Preparatory league competition. Even boxing will have its share of attention although no organized effort will be made to schedule outside matches in this sport.

In wrestling the Santa Ana boys will follow a regular schedule of matches, beginning February 29. The season's card follows: Feb. 29—San Diego; March 7—South Pasadena; March 14—Long Beach; March 21—Alhambra; March 28—Whittier; April 11—Pasadena; April 18—Glendale.

Wrestling will be conducted in seven divisions according to the following weights: 112, 118, 125, 135, 145, 158 and 175 pounds.

CARLARIS TO CARRY TOP WEIGHT SUNDAY

TIJUANA, Mexico, Feb. 10.—Carlaris, W. T. Anderson's Tijuana Derby and Coffroth Handicap winner in 1926, will carry top weight of 128 pounds in the Speed Handicap here Sunday, according to imposts announced by the jockey club. The Speed Handicap at six furlongs and worth $6000 added, is the first of the six seasonal stake races.

Light Carbine, which is on the ground, but will probably not start, is weighted at 123 pounds. Other allotted weights are: Paavo 98, Jack Dempsey 90, Dr. Wilson 112, Judge Schilling 108, Jack Alexander, last year's winner, 100, Alexander Pantages 105, Conquistador 100, Proctor Hug 105, Shasta [illegible] 92, Pat 100, Bonnie Omar [illegible] 98, [illegible] 115, [illegible] 112.

SANTA ANA 'B' QUINTET WHIPS PASADENA FIVE

Running wild in the last quarter when they made nine points and held their opposition to three, Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana high school "Bees" swept to victory and a tie for first place in the Coast Preparatory league when they humbled the previously unbeaten Pasadena Class B basketball team, 20 to 13, at Pasadena yesterday afternoon.

It was tough going for the Poly lightweights until the final period when "Rusty" Sullivan, center, and Monty Flanders and "Swede" Williams, forwards, went off on a scoring tantrum and shot sorely needed baskets from all angles.

The score at the close of the first quarter was 1 to 0, at the half, 7 to 4 and at the third frame, 11 to 10, Santa Ana having the slight edge all the route.

Bill Cook

Before they were upset by Coach Cook's 130-pounders, Pasadena's 'Bees' had defeated, in order and by decisive scores, Whittier, San Diego, Glendale and Alhambra and were red-hot favorites to cinch the league bunting by taking down the Polyites.

Sullivan was Santa Ana's scoring ace, sinking four shots from the floor for a total of eight points. Flanders came through with a pair of pretty baskets in the last half and the playing of Captain Delmer Brown, speedy running guard, was consistent and spectacular. Brown is said to be the best dribbler in Santa Ana basketball ranks, rating better even than any of the varsity players in this art.

Two more games of importance remain in front of the Santa Ana lighties. They face the lowly Alhambra five here next Thursday and then journey to San Diego for what may turn out to be a championship struggle. San Diego, like Santa Ana and Pasadena, has met defeat but once from a team of "B" rank.

The lineup:

Santa Ana (20)		(13) Pasadena
Hall	F	(1) Reed
Flanders (4)	F	(1) Lopez
Sullivan (8)	C	Hendrickson
Brown (6)	G	(4) Galbraith
Beall	G	Sherar

Substitutions

Santa Ana—Williams (2) for Hall.
Pasadena—Necory (3) for Lopez, Vives (4) for Hendrickson.

PELTZER, DODGE IN NEW 'GRUDGE' RACE

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Dr. Otto Peltzer, German distance runner, makes his first appearance in Chicago tonight and it seemed probable that his first race here would take the form of an old fashioned "grudge fight."

Peltzer's opponent in this predicted "grudge race" will be Ray Dodge, of Chicago, who recently charged the German bumped him when they ran in the Millrose games at New York a week ago. Peltzer, who won that race, denied the charges.

STAR OF STAFF

He'll be the star of the Washington pitching staff, this Horace Lisenbee—that is the prediction being made by most experts who saw Lisenbee in action last year. With the Nats for the first season, Lisenbee led all American leaguers in shutouts with four. He also compiled a very healthy list of victories in his first season of big league pitching.

SANGOR KAYOES BUD TAYLOR IN EIGHTH ROUND

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Joey Sangor, Milwaukee featherweight, victorious over Bud Taylor by a technical knockout last night, appeared today as the outstanding western contender for the featherweight crown at stake tonight in the Canzoneri-Bass fight in New York.

Sangor was awarded a technical knockout over Taylor, world's bantamweight champion.

Taylor's claim of foul, raised when he was unable to answer the bell for the eighth round was not recognised. Taylor went down from a body blow. He failed to recover in a five minute period, allotted by physicians, and the decision was given Sangor.

Baby Joe Gans Loses On Foul

CULVER CITY, Calif., Feb. 10.—Baby Joe Gans lost to Johnny Lamar on a foul in the fifth round of a scheduled 10 round main event here last night.

PAOLINO UZCUDUN TO PITCH CAMP ON BASTANCHURY RANCH

Paolino Uzcudun, the Basque woodchopper who meets George Godfrey in a heavyweight boxing bout at Wrigley field February 29, will train on the Bastanchury ranch in Orange county, according to dispatches received here today.

Uzcudun has accepted the invitation of Bastanchury representatives and will pitch his camp, somewhere near Brea, over the week-end. He intends to start actual preparation for his important contest next Monday.

This is the first time in more than 20 years that a boxer of international reputation has trained in this county. Many years ago Battling Nelson, famous lightweight, trained at Fairview while preparing for one of his big fistic ventures.

DONS SET FOR NEW INVASION BY FULLERTON

With little more than the glory of winning at stake, two old rivals, Santa Ana and Fullerton junior colleges, will be pitted against each other on the basketball court again here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the closing game of the Southern California junior college playoffs. There will be no preliminary.

Because of the rivalry existing between the two schools, the game promised to be one of the most attractive of the season.

Coach Walter Scott will probably throw the full strength of his Dons on the court to match the invasion of Coach Art Nunn's charges who are bent on evening old scores that Santa Ana inflicted in the crushing victory between the two aggregations last year.

But the gridiron athletes on the local team haven't forgotten the 7 to 0 football win that Fullerton scored last fall either.

Santa Ana's forwards at the start will be Faris Edgar and Mearl Youel. Ted Cook will be at center and Captain Bill Allee and Willard White, at guards. Fullerton will come here with a high respect for that ensemble that was able to hold Long Beach to a one point victory although the beach team scored heavily over Fullerton. By comparative scores, the Santa Ana five will take the floor favored to win.

Neither Santa Ana nor Fullerton stand high enough in the Western division of the Southern California Junior College conference to challenges the lead of the undefeated Long Beach and Pasadena teams who tangle tomorrow night in the crucial match to settle the representative teams to enter the playoffs.

CLUBMEN GET THREE RIVERSIDE ATHLETES

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Feb. 10.—Three Riverside athletes will wear the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic club when the Mercury track and field team meets Occidental college at Eagle Rock tomorrow.

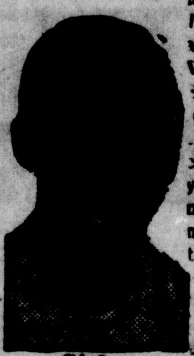
Bill Neufeld, noted javelin, discus and shot put star, who is now coaching at Riverside junior college, will attempt a comeback.

Box Maxwell, who captained the L. A. A. C. team last year, will enter the low and the high hurdles. Bob Patton, Riverside junior college student, and holder of the Rocky mountain hop-skip-and-jump title wil compete for the club. He will also enter the discus, shotput and broad jump events.

GEORGE SISLER OFF FOR CAMP OF NATIONALS

Singing anew the [illegible] of Orange county to which he says he always will owe a debt of gratitude, the peerless George Sisler, baseball's finest first baseman, left his winter home at Laguna Beach today and started for Tampa, Fla., to join for the first time the Washington club of the American league.

Sisler has been at Laguna Beach since early in November. He first wintered here in 1923 after a terrible affliction of the eyes threatened for a time to force him from the diamond for all time.



Sisler

As silent as ever about his affairs, Sisler has little to say about his sale to Washington by St. Louis after a long stretch with the Browns including a two-year term as manager. He merely states that he is going to the Senators prepared to give them the best baseball that is in him.

There has been no official confirmation either by the Washington club or Sisler himself to the effect that the star has agreed to terms and signed a contract but it is understood that "Gorgeous George" has a sort of understanding with Clark Griffith and that there will be no trouble on that score. Sisler has never been a hard man to handle. He is first of all a gentleman and one without temperament and, if he has not done so already, will jot his name on a Washington contract as soon as he gets to training camp in Florida.

Sisler said he has enjoyed and benefited by his winter at Laguna Beach immensely and that he hoped he could return next November but this, he stated, would depend on his business conditions.

KEARNS, DEMPSEY MUST HURRY SUIT

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Jack Kearns and Jack Dempsey were ordered today to hasten settlement of their protracted public dispute over whether Dempsey owes his former manager a third of a million dollars.

Federal Judge William Bondy told attorneys for the two Jacks that Kearns' suit for one third of Dempsey's earnings, under a disputed contract, must be tried in April, either in Philadelphia or New York.

Tilden And Lott Clash In Tennis Singles Tonight

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—William T. Tilden, II, veteran of the clay and turf courts of the tennis world, will meet young George Lott jr., of Chicago, in a special singles match in connection with a program of Jai Alai games here tonight.

The Tilden-Lott match and two others in which Johnny Hennessey of Indianapolis, and Francis Hunter, of New York, will participate, features the first day of the forty-seventh annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

CANZONERI AND BASS CLASH IN RING TONIGHT

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Two midgets of the ring tonight will fight for the featherweight championship at Madison Square Garden while the one-time master of that division, Johnny Dundee, looks on with praise.

Tony Canzoneri, the good looking Italian from Brooklyn, and the recognized champion in New York state, will mix it for 15 rounds with Benny Bass of Philadelphia, recognized champion of the National Boxing association. They are the best of the east in this division and Dundee is all praise for Canzoneri as the best in the land.

It wasn't so very long ago that Dundee—who retired as undefeated featherweight champion—climbed back into the ring at his old time weight of 126 pounds. He was the crafty veteran. Against him was a youth of promise. That youth was Tony Canzoneri.

In a slashing fight Canzoneri took the decision from the veteran, a decision that was one-sided. It was the first time that Dundee had ever been defeated at 126 pounds and he praised the youth who had turned the trick. He announced he would be there tonight to watch these crafty and hard-hitting midgets fight for the title he vacated.

Canzoneri goes into the fight an 8 to 5 favorite.

After a two-week junket ou the road, Coach "Bad Bill" Fo Santa Ana high school baske troupe, rated by many as hte in local prep annals, returns to warmth of its native hearth tonight to battle the Pasa Bulldogs in the fifth Coast P atory league skirmish of the se

The varsity brush will be ceded at 7:30 o'clock by a Cla (110-pound) team tilt fully as portant. Santa Ana and Pasa both boast potent midget men ies and it is altogether likely the victor this eve will go on into the playoffs for the So ern California bunting. Pasad "Cees" come to town undef while Clyde Cook's little henc have only one blot on their paign's escutcheon.

Foote's varsity completed training yesterday for the r with the Bulldog "A" squad and was pronounced fit as a fiddle. Santa Ana played only one real game during the week, beating Orange, 23 to 21, in a furious tussle that went into an extra period before big "Reg" Rust dropped one into the cage and gave the Saints a two-point margin of superiority.

Reginald

Santa Ana is likely to cor the floor with a lineup cons of Orville Schuchardt and Youel, the left-handed forw Rust, center, and Captain W Sullivan and Eric Twist, g although there is a chance Foote will start Melvin Bea center and save Rust, his ac some psychological moment. Swindler also has a good c to start at either running or ing guard.

Pasadena's standing this has been a keen disappointm followers of the basketball ness in the Crown City. The dogs began the season tout the club to whip for the crov when they ran away from W in the first league melee it s that the pre-season dope wa far from right but something awry in the Pasadena mac after the Poet joust and game has been won since.

AN ATTRACTIVE MATCH

Now that Dr. Otto C. Peltzer has made his American debut on the track and has convinced the dear old public that he is worthy of notice as a runner, it seems that the logical thing to do would be to match Herr Doctor with Lloyd Hahn, the Boston middle-distance runner.

Hahn is without doubt America's best in the middle distances and a match between the foreigner and his American competitor would prove a very attractive one to the track public.

Hahn has not lost a race in more than a year and went through the last indoor campaign without crossing the tape behind anyone and is likely to do so again this year.

He defeated Edvin Wide, another invader, last year. Perhaps, were he to meet Peltzer, he would defeat the German. It is asking a lot of him, but Hahn is a runner worth talking about with complimentary words any way you take him.

* * *

If they race this year, it will be indoors, and it must be remembered that foreign runners are unaccustomed to indoor work, and a [illegible] [illegible] does not harm their outdoor standing in the least.

* * *

USED TO OUTDOORS

Lloyd Hahn has shown that he can step the half mile indoors around 1:54, and also demonstrated last year when he ran against Wide that he can do the mile indoors around 4:12.

He did it last year in one-fifth second more, which is just one-fifth second away from the record.

Foreign runners are unaccustomed to running indoors, and the victory of Peltzer the other night, while it was not against the very highest competition, thrust a fear into the hearts of the native sons who would like to see Hahn beat him if they race here.

Peltzer is not an indoor runner. Nurmi soon managed to learn how to run indoors, and perhaps Peltzer will likewise learn. Wide didn't you know.

* * *

But whether the indoor track is banked or flat, running under a roof is a lot different from running out under the open skies, and remember that if Peltzer is beaten indoors. Don't penalize his ability too much.

* * *

WHO'S THE NEXT?

It seems as if now is the proper time for any young heavyweight to shove himself into the limelight and perhaps crack off a chunk of big dough.

Alas, however, the promising young heavyweights are not to be found around and about in too great quantities at this time, and there is a great fear that the fight fans will have to be satisfied with the present crop of heavies for the next few months.

The Delaney-Heeney, Sharkey-Risko and Paulino-Godfrey fights, two of which are taking place in Mr. Rickard's gardens in New York are including just about all the prominent heavies in the business at this time.

And of this lot, it is unlikely that either Paulino or Godfrey will usher himself into the big dough class at Mr. Rickard's expense.

Paulino has a chance, but the big Basque has been eliminated so many times that it is hardly likely he will be given a chance to eliminate himself again.

* * *

With Dempsey out of the way, it looks like Tunney will have to be content with the current heavies for a future opponent unless someone drops out from a box car again and ascends to the top as the former champion, Dempsey, did.

Nichols did 14 3-5 in the highs and about 25 seconds in the lows last year, while West did 15 seconds in the highs and 24 1-5 in the lows. These boys should be great point gretters in the coming season. Other prospective hurdlers are Don Nelson, who won both barrier races in the California-Stanford freshman meet two years ago but was out last year because of illness; and Jack Bullis, who placed third against California in the highs in the 1927 Big Meet.

With the graduation of Tom Work, Bob King will have the high jump pretty much to himself. The big boy did 6 feet 6 inches last season an dis out to improve on that mark this year. French who did 5 10 1-4 as a freshman, and Bryant, who can make six feet, are other possibilities. West, the hurdler, may be used in this event, and is capable of six feet.

Ward Edmonds, who vaulted 13 feet 6 inches twice last year, is going great in early season workouts. He has already cleared 13 feet without much difficulty and is working to go higher this season than last.

SPORTSMATTER

BY FRANK GETTY
UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

The question of amateurism in connection with the Olympic games is one for each individual nation to determine for itself.

The Olympic authorities accept without question certification by an athlete's own country of his eligibility to compete in the games.

Similarly, no nation ever thinks of protesting the amateur standing of an entrant from another nation. Each has its amateur standards, and sends to the Olympiad its amateur performers.

Frequently, however, amusing differences in the matter of amateur standards as between nations come to light in an Olympic year.

American standards are well known to American track and field fans, and are perhaps as rigid as any in the world. An amateur athlete may receive expenses for traveling to and from a meet in which he is invited to attend, provided he has the permission of the A. A. U. to compete. Outside of that, he accepts no remuneration.

The French have an amusing system in connection with the Olympic games, which recently has come to light and which may well prove to be the subject of some discussion.

Contrary to the principle of amateur sport, as viewed in the United States, the French Olympic Committee has decided that an amateur who stands a good chance of winning a place in the games at Amsterdam this summer is a lot more valuable an amateur than one who is an indifferent, albeit a willing, performer.

Accordingly, a schedule of prices for amateurs has been adopted in France.

Money allotted by the French Olympic Committee for training purposes is handed out in proportion to each man's ability.

A sprinter who can run 100 meters in 10 4-5 seconds will be allowed much more money for training than one who requires 11 seconds for the distance.

A shot putter who can heave the 16-pound weight more than 50 feet can have many more francs to get in shape or whatever he needs than one whose best effort is 48 feet.

The average French star, whether on track or field, will be given about 1,500 francs, to be spent, of course, though his club, while the dubs, who may have a chance, but are not prominent Olympic material, will receive approximately 800 francs each.

One can imagine the uproar that would be occasioned in the United States if some system of wage scales for amateurs were adopted.

Charley Paddock, for instance, would want top price among the sprinters, whereupon a dozen of his rivals who probably can whip the erstwhile "Fastest Human" would immediately jealously demand the same.

Lloyd Hahn would command the highest sum for training expenses or chewing tobacco or whatever it is athletes do with their money, since Hahn is the outstanding runner at any distance.

Sabin Carr would have to be well taken care of among the pole vaulters, but undoubtedly Lee Barnes of California would be in there protesting against his allowance.

This probably would lead to a graduated union scale for amateurs, and to the end of amateurism.

2014 Los Angeles Children Missing During Past Year

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Of 2014 boys and girls officially reported missing in Los Angeles in 1927, 1475 have been located or returned home voluntarily, according to the police juvenile bureau.

Nine hundred of the total were girls, the statistics show, and 800 of this number are known to have reached home again.

It was stated that many still listed as missing have been found but not reported to the police.

Dissatisfaction with home conditions, bad company and lack of parental supervision are usually to blame in the case of runaway girls, the report said.

BANANAS ARE RAISED HERE WITH SUCCESS

Bananas probably will never supplant oranges as this county's chief crop but Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Burns, of 916 Spurgeon street, are firmly convinced that the climate here is ideal for the growing of the yellow fruit.

A banana shoot which was planted in the Burns yard in the spring of 1926 by Mrs. Burns, this year produced 42 bananas and she says that every one was of the kind that "melts in your mouth."

Three shoots have developed from the original planting, so that next year the Burns expect to have enough bananas to supply the entire neighborhood.

The tree in the Burns' yard was secured by Mrs. Burns from her mother, Mrs. Emma French, of Ninth and Spurgeon street. They have given the tree an abundance of water and attribute the plant's success to that factor, as well as to heavy fertilization. The plant has a southern exposure.

CULVER CITY, Feb. 10.—A petition asking that a "Dan Cupid Week" be proclaimed as a reminder to all bachelors and bachelorettes that leap year is here has been sent to Mayor E. Houck, of Culver City, by the exclusive Four Arts club.

"It is just as much a civic duty for the city to plan marriages and thus increase the number of permanent families in a community as it is to plan tree planting for the benefit of future generations," the petition declared.

"There are many attractive, but unmarried, young women in Culver City," the petition avers, "some passing beyond the youthful stage. They will make good wives and there are plenty of men able to marry if they meet the right girl."

Mayor Houck was asked to list all eligible men in Culver City and at the same time set aside one week to remind girls that they are now privileged to "pop the question."

H. B. MAN APPEALS GAMBLING CHARGE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 10. —Attorneys for Al Salton, local pool hall operator, convicted recently of a gambling charge, have filed notice of appeal with Judge Chris Pann, it was announced here today. NEW POOLING SYSTEM FOR ORANGE HOUSE

VILLA PARK, Feb. 10.—A slightly revised pooling system and the election of officers were two matters of importance that occupied the attention of the members of the Villa Park Orange Growers' association at their annual meeting at the packing plant yesterday.

Under the pooling system decided upon after a long discussion, growers may pick their pools. Application cards are sent to each grower, who returns them with an indication of the particular pool in which he wishes to enter his fruit, and how much fruit he wishes to put into it.

Under this elastic system, there will be no definite number of pools, but, according to H. D. Nichols, manager of the packing plant and secretary of the association, there probably will be from four to six each year.

Election of officers for the year resulted in the return of the officers and directors to the positions they previously held. They are as follows: President, Willard Smith; vice president, W. A. Knuth; secretary, H. D. Nichols; assistant secretary, G. R. Goetsch; treasurer, N. T. Edwards; directors, G. H. Peterson, A. M. Sexton, D. Blackburn, Willard Smith and W. A. Knuth.

The banquet at noon was served in the packing plant. Joe Adams, foreman of the plant, had charge of the decorations. Adams used quantities of palm branches in lining the room where the banquet was held. Nearly 300 people were served by the Ladies' Aid society, of the Villa Park church. Baskets of oranges were used for table decorations and orange marmalade was a part of the menu.

The program following the banquet was given by a number of authorities on marketing. J. O. Cook, manager of the dealers' service of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, spoke on service to dealers and on advertising. Among other things, Cook brought out the importance of the selling of orange juice. He stated that the California Fruit Growers' association was responsible for the organized campaign that had given the sale of orange juice the tremendous impetus it had received during the past few years.

With the co-operation of this organization, during last year alone, 42,000 electric orange juice extractors had been sold and were in operation in various places, he said. The speaker touched briefly on the handling of the bumper crop of oranges the past year, declaring that the marketing at the satisfactory price received was due to the harmonious working of the association.

E. T. assel, president of the Exchange By-Products company, discussed every day problems of the grower and common sense solutions for their solving.

The returns from the Villa Park association the past year were nearly three-quarters of a million dollars, averaging $3.45 a packed box for 227,133 boxes shipped in 568 cars. The association has 1500 acres with considerable new acreage set to young trees.

SCOFFER GAINS HEALTH, WEALTH IN CALIFORNIA

ANAHEIM, Feb. 10.—How a man came to Anaheim "hating" California, and then spent 21 years building up what is now one of the largest enterprises of its kind in this city, was revealed this morning with the announcement of the sale of the Weber Book store to A. W. Souder, of Los Angeles.

J. B. Weber, founder of the Weber Book store, came to California in ill health. Two years in California, he thought, would be sufficient to put him on his feet again so that he might resume his insurance business in the east. Certainly that would be all that he could "stand" of California.

He wanted something to occupy his mind while resting. He established a small magazine stand, which soon expanded in its scope until it became a complete, though small, book store located in the Strodhoff building.

About 10 years later the business outgrew its location and a move was made to larger quarters on East Center street, then after another interim of 10 years removal was made to the present spacious storeroom at 150 West Center.

Souder, the new owner of the business, has been a resident of Los Angeles for the past two years, but previously, operated a business in Sioux City, Ia.

Weber plans to devote his time in the administration of property interests in Los Angeles and expects to move from Anaheim within a few months.

Proposed Bridge Work Near Seal Beach Opposed

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 10.—Remodeling of the Pacific Electric bridge across Los Alamitos bay has met with opposition on the part of the Pacific Electric company, it was announced here today. A hearing to iron out the difficulties will be held at the Long Beach city hall February 27 at 2 p. m. Major C. P. Gross, government engineer, will be in charge of the hearing.

Several organizations in Seal Beach recently went on record in favor of raising the bridge to allow pleasure boats to use the entrance to Alamitos bay. Small motor boats may now use the entrance but the bridge is too low to admit boats bearing a mast, the Seal Beach organizations report.

Charles A. Bland, traffic expert of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, has recommended that Pacific Electric service along the peninsula to Naples and Belmont Shore be abandoned and that the district be served by bus.

HOUSEHOLD

Original Idea Serves In Presentation of Shower Gifts

Expressing their interest in the approaching marriage of Howard Law, 1510 Durant street, and Miss Pauline Ziegler of Los Angeles, Mr. Law's associates in the circulation department of The Register, met for a merry party on Wednesday evening, in the home of Miss Naomi Keller, 921 Lowell street, with Miss Keller and Miss Helen Lutz as hostesses.

It was unusually appropriate that the valentine motif should be uppermost in all details of the evening, for the young people have chosen Valentine day itself as the date of their wedding. So the two hostesses used scarlet flowers, hearts and candles everywhere and indicated places for their guests at the supper tables by means of candy hearts whereon names were inscribed.

Three tables were arranged with waffle irons, and Miss Keller presided at one, Miss Lutz at another and Mrs. William McKay at the third. Mrs. Emma Keller and Mrs. Arthur Strommerson of Laguna Beach, mother and sister of the hostess, assisted in serving. A fruit cocktail was followed by the delicious waffles, served with little sausages, scalloped potatoes, red apple rings and coffee with fruit jello and cake as the final course. Tables were then cleared for an evening of hearts.

Preliminary to the game, John McCoy made an amusing little speech in which he informed Mr. Law that every time he heard an alarm clock ring, he was to answer it, no matter what point he had reached in the game of hearts. The result was a merry evening, for at irregular intervals, the peal of the alarm would be sounded from some remote and unexpected corner of the house. Mr. Law and his fiancee, responding to the call, would always discover some attractive piece of kitchen equipment for their future home.

In addition to the array of useful things chosen by friends in the circulation department, Mr. Law and Miss Zeigler were presented with a handsome set of dishes in English ware, the gift of the entire Register staff. Mr. McKay, head of the circulation department, made the presentation.

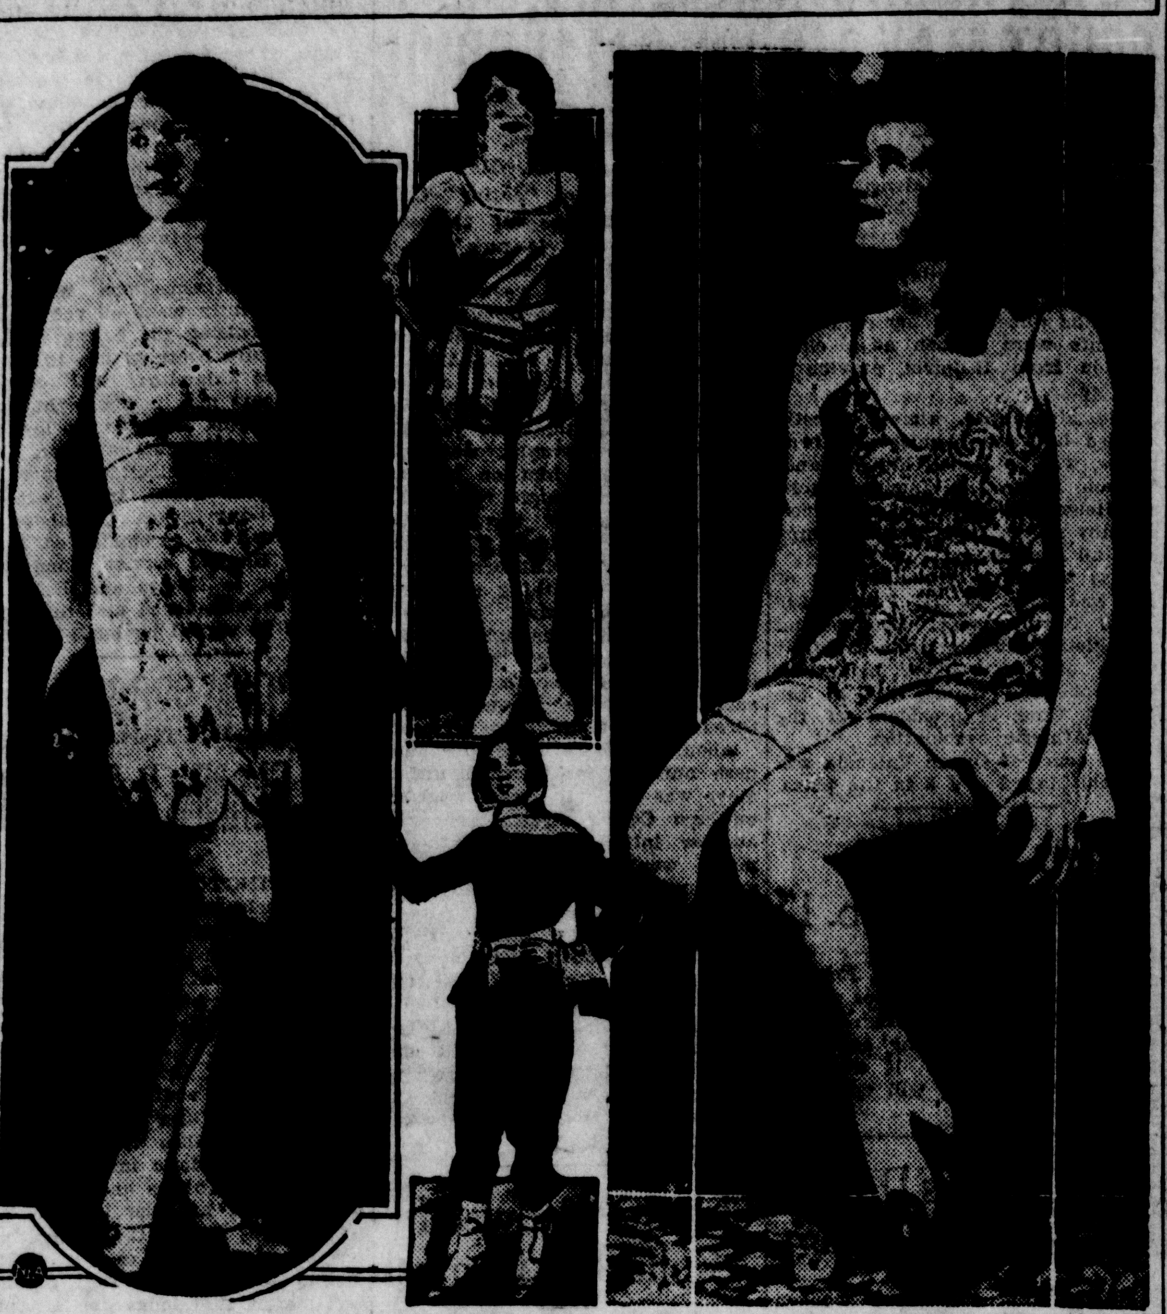
BREVITY IS SOUL OF SPRING LINGERIE



Softly colored and new in cut and material are new spring undies: (left) Dolly Varden triple voile fashions a scalloped bandeau set with fitted yoke and rose bindings: (center, above) for sports, swankly little shorts of lavender and gold silk, with lavender vest; (lower) coral belt, trouser ties and facings liven the stunning Ruth Elder black satin pajama suit with poplin jacket and scarf tie; (right) Lido blue brocade makes the season's most novel contribution, the princess combination.

By JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

Molded brevity is the keynote to style in Milady's spring lingerie. Elaborate revues at the United Women's Wear League of America's New York convention showed that while costumes may or may not be longer, the little dainties called lingerie certainly could be no shorter!

Negligees are the exception that proves the brevity rule. If your negligee does not trail in the back and have sleeves that flare or ripple or do something unusual, you are not really in style. Either choose pajamas or go in seriously for ultra feminine boudoir attire.

The Leg That Ties

As a matter of fact pajamas come shorter this season, the leg that ties at high-shoe length proving a new favorite.

Next noticeable to the length of lingerie comes the changing silhouette. Lacy trifles use godets, inserts of cobwebby lace, pleated chiffon or ruffles of net to gain a flaring line quite the antithesis of last year's boyish straightness. Natural waist lines are indicated everywhere.

The princess combination is the superlative of this tendency and by its curved lines establishes as the ultimate of chic for underthings the same molded silhouette that outer garments emphasize. Nightgowns, slips and combinations use the uneven hemline, too.

Laciness for Femininity

Elaborate laciness is perhaps the third characteristic that hits the feminine eye. Delicate georgette, triple voiles, figured chiffons, nets and quantities of lace—Alencon, Bretonne, Chantilly and Duchess—fluff their way to stunning styles. Bridal sets use lace almost entirely—with white satin or georgette and to add to the lacy effect they even employ bits of maribou or ostrich for ornament. All lingerie makes profuse use of ribbons this spring.

Color lends its artistic charm everywhere. Running true to feminine styles, lingerie uses a soft, complimenting flesh pink, when in doubt. But Lido blue, heliotrope, apple green, maize, rose-beige and black color many.

Gowns and combinations form the usual ensemble but the times call for dance slips now and so they are often included. Various pieces show the same cut, and trimming. Nightgowns come in an entirely new cut—the wrap-around. Others have side ruffles, pleats and godets to give comfortable fullness.

Models of Individuality

Individuality is given proper consideration in the new modes. There are dainty black point d'esprit evening sets, backless with gold edges for the woman who likes fine things but simple ones. Others feature black georgette over coral, much slashed and pointed to show the coral and elaborately embroidered.

Some novelties deserve special mention. New in three ways is a princess combination that has gorgeous brocade in a Lido blue for its material—an innovation—that emphasizes the moulded silhouette and that shows the new pointed neckline. The gown of this set is precisely like the combination, only longer.

The sportswoman comes into her own this season. Lingerie designers have fashioned her cute little shorts suits, with hip yokes and either skirts or bandeau for the uppers. The striped model in orchid and gold, with either an orchid or gold upper, has fashion's approval as proper attire for the golfer or tennis fan.

Figured triple voiles and georgettes in beautiful Dolly Varden patterns fashioned some of the loveliest of spring under-dainties. One is pink, blue and yellow sprays on a flesh background. This is the popular bandeau set—fitted yoke with flaring step-ins and bandeau all bound with pink. The scalloped edges and the rounded top of the bodice show the tendency everywhere to avoid straight lines.

Piano Recital

Quite a crowd of pleased and interested friends gathered recently in the Earl Fraser studio, to listen to a piano program presented by young pupils of Minnie Phillips Heard, to illustrate their musical progress.

One of the most interesting numbers was that with which the program opened, for it was "The Indian" by Mayor, played by the youngest pupil of all, five-year-old little Doris Clark, who played the pretty little melody with exactly the same poise and charm as marked the performance of far older children.

Following little Miss Doris, were Richard Gregg, Frances Johnston, Idelle Johnston, Mary Coffman, Lois, Rohrs, Leola Schroeder, Ruth Greenwald, William Lowe, Charlotte Mock, Phyllis Krock, and Roy Bogardus, playing numbers by such favorite composers for youthful pianists, as Mana-Zucca, Anna Priscilla Risher, Reinhold and Bilbro.

Helen and William Lowe played an interesting duet, "The School Picnic" by Bilbro, and were followed by Ruth Johnson, Elizabeth Marston, Thelma Shipe, Velma Smith, Dorothy Dumphy, Patricia McClure, Miriel Gubl, Louise Markwalker and Elisabeth Downie.

Miss Esther Vogt gave an especially brilliant rendering of Godard's "Second Valse," playing with a smoothness and speed that were slightly commended. Other advanced pupils of Mrs. Heard who completed the program, were Vivian Smith Harmon, playing "Mazurka, Opus 41, No. 4," by Chopin; the Misses Helen Hamilton and Thelma Glasscock, playing Chopin's "Military Polonaise;" Mrs. Harmon, playing Weber's "Invitation to the Dance," and Miss Glasscock "Rondo Capriccioso," by Mendelssohn.

Bridge Club Meeting Honors Birthday Of Member

Miss Grace Smith was the guest of honor at this week's meeting of a friendly little two-table bridge club to which she belongs, for the entertaining hostess, Miss Agnes Lieberman of 612 French street, remembered that it was her birthday, and laid plans accordingly.

The plans materialized at the supper hour following the bridge session, when the girls were ushered to the dining-room, and found the table like a valentine with its red candles and hearts. At Miss Smith's place was a little pile of fascinating packages, containing birthday gifts from her friends, and after the sandwiches, coffee and red fruit salad had been served, a candle-lighted birthday cake was placed before her.

Miss Mary Banks held high honors in bridge and received the prize. Others enjoying the evening included in addition to hostess and honoree, the Misses Della Iman, Helen McCune, Gretchen Lieberman, Frances Hillman and Berenice Gohres.

Friendly Party Adds Surprise Feature To Birthday

When Mrs. Clarence Nisson of Red Hill avenue, Tustin, agreed to spend yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Holt Randal of this city, she knew that Mrs. Randal was planning a friendly chat as a birthday event, but never dreamed that it was more than just an afternoon in the home of her hostess at 2648 North Main street.

Agreeing with the suggestion that they stop and chat a few minutes with Mrs. Harry Westover of 1527 East Fourth street, Mrs. Nisson discovered that she was complimented at quite a little party—a "cousinly" affair so to speak, for those comprising the group were nearly all related.

The home was a cheery spot with its red carnations and candles and many valentines, including those distributed to serve as tally cards for bridge. Miss Laura Porter scored high and Mrs. Randal, second. To them and to her honor guest, the hostess presented attractive serving trays in deep lacquer red to conform to her general decorative scheme.

In the dining-room where refreshments were served, Mrs. Westover continued with her candles and carnations in deep red, and also used the color in her charlotte russe with whipped cream and red cherries, and on the candles that gleamed from a delicious angelfood cake. At Mrs. Nisson's place were heaped many packages, the gifts of her friends who included in addition to Mrs. Westover and Mrs. Randal, Miss Laura Porter and Miss Helen Porter of Fullerton, Miss Gertrude Montgomery, Miss Louise Montgomery and Mrs. Tarver Montgomery.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Missionary Society

An interesting session of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church, was held Wednesday afternoon, and was so well attended that it was found necessary to move to the main auditorium of the church, and it in turn was almost completely filled.

Routine business was put through hurriedly and election of officers was held. Mrs. M. B. Youel, chairman of nominating committee, presented the list of names. A few changes were made. Mrs. H. A. Allen was retained as president. It was much regretted that Mrs. E. B. Smith resigned as treasurer. Mrs. J. E. Kellogg was elected to the office. Mrs. Smith had filled the office for 28 years, and had endeared herself to everyone connected with the church work by the efficient manner in which she quietly conducted her work.

The chairman of different departments gave excellent reports, and then Mrs. Allen gave the meeting over to Mrs. Herbert Rankin, program chairman. Mrs. Rankin introduced Miss Barlow, who conducted a wonderful devotional hour on the subject of prayer from the text "If ye ask anything in my name, I will do it."

At this time the audience was given a long anticipated treat in hearing Estella Daniel tell of her work in Valparaiso, Chile. She gave many interesting incidents of her school work, how quickly the pupils take up with the idea of an education; her work is with girls and women, who are taught in a practical way to improve their manner of keeping their homes, caring for their children, improving their morals, in fact anything that will uplift them in this life and fit them for the life to come. She displayed a number of articles, all the hand work of her people. She sails February 20 for a return to her field.

A still further treat was in store. Miss Lucy Shafer, field secretary of the board of national missions, is on this coast and was present. For many years she has been connected with the mountain work in the south. She gave most intensely interesting description of the scope and results of the work, how eager and anxious adults and children are to improve their conditions along all lines; of the self sacrifice they are willing to make, and the strong mentality they exhibit.

A committee had arranged for a social hour and served tea and cakes from a beautifully appointed table in the prayer meeting room.

Santa Ana Artists Accorded Warm Reception

Having completed their concert tour for the Santa Fe railroad, the Santa Ana artists, Cecil Frost Willets, Miss Ruth Armstrong, Miss Georgia Bell Walton and Edward Burns, will disband at Chicago, and soon return to this city, after an unusually pleasant experience.

The musicians have met with unstinted approval in every town where they appeared on the way east to Chicago, according to newspaper clippings which have reached their friends and relatives here. An especially warm appreciation greeted them at Slaton, Tex., and "Uncle" George Merriott who has charge of the Santa Fe reading room there (where the concert was staged) sent the newspaper report of the affair back to Mrs. Edward Burns of 451 West Sixth street, that she might appreciate the reception accorded her husband and the other members of the troupe.

The 'cello numbers played by Mr. Burns were declared the finest ever presented in the community, and the account stated that it was doubtful if his equal would ever appear there. Mrs. Willits' contralto voice and friendly personality were lauded equally high, and Miss Armstrong's piano work was pronounced perfect in technique and understanding, and a contributing factor in the success of each number. Miss Walton's violin technique was highly appreciated, and her youth and promise commented upon warmly.

"Oh, thank you," said Red Riding Hood. "You Tinymites have been so good. I'm sure your husky hound, and you, have saved me from real harm." "Oh, that's all right," wee Clowny cried. "To give him quite a scare we tried. But now we'd best forget it since there's no cause for alarm."

Then Coppy said, "But, where's our hound? Before we go, he must be found. Perhaps he's caught up with the wolf, and they have had a fight. A wolf can battle when he's caught. To play real safe I think we ought to look around the woods until our faithful dog is found.

"Before we start, I have a hunch we'd better travel in a bunch. 'Twill be much safer that way, if the wolf's still running free." "You're right," cried Scouty. "We will stick together, but we'd best be quick!" And then he started on the run, and shouted, "Follow me!"

They'd covered just a bit of ground when Clowny shouted, "There's our hound!" And, as the dog came running up, the whole bunch yelled "Hurray!" They patted him and rubbed his head, and very shortly Coppy said, "Our dog has had no fight. I guess the old wolf got away."

Red Riding Hood then said, "Let's roam until we reach my grandma's home. I have a basket full of food, and we will have a treat." The Tinies thought this plan was great and so they didn't hesitate. It pleased them much to think that they would soon have food to eat.

They climbed into their cart and then hitched up the dog and once again they started off, a merry crowd, to have another ride. Red Riding Hood real shortly said, "There's grandma's home, lads, just ahead. Come, jump out of your wagon and we all will go inside."

(The Tinymites meet Red Riding Hood's grandma in the next story.)

AT THE THEATER

WEST COAST-WALKER

Having been soldiers, sailors, firemen and aviators, all with hilarious results, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton have become mountain climbers and Swiss yodelers.

In the new characterizations, in which they are seen this week at the West Coast-Walker theater, their antics are of the same laughable quality that endeared them to the public in "Behind the Front," "We're in the Navy Now," "Firemen, Save My Child," "Now We're in the Air."

"Wife Savers" is a whirlwind comedy that accelerates from two to fifty laughs a minute in the first 100 feet. It should be seen by anyone strong enough to laugh constantly for approximately one hour.

A strong supporting cast has been assembled for the stars. It includes Ford Sterling, ZaSu Pitts, Tom Kennedy, August Tollaire, Sally Blane, and George Y. Harvey.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

The public never outgrows its liking for melodrama when it is real melodrama, and "The Girl from Chicago," current attraction at the Broadway theater, is just that. While it is made up of a thousand thrills it has a background of human affection and the daring and danger is gone through for a purpose which is not only believable, but laudable.

Myrna Loy has the big chance of her career and she gives a marvelous characterization. Conrad Nagel, who for a large part of the play is in the guise of a bad man—plays with his unfailing manliness and power, and William Russell, as Big Steve, is masterful. Enright's direction shows the good judgment of the producers in choosing him to bring the powerful story to the screen. A great melodrama, superbly acted and staged.

WEST END THEATER

Known as "the man of a thousand faces," William Turner, well known actor and one-time star of the stage, adds another character to his extensive collection with the part of a Spanish Don in "Driftin' Sands," current attraction starring Bob Steele at the West End theater. Turner has portrayed more than a thousand different characters, ranging from Shakespearian roles to heavy melodrama.

His most recent successes on the stage include parts in "The Green Hat" and "Alias the Deacon."

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

"Flying Boots," the play that is being given by Murphy's Comedians at Orana all this week, presents an unusually interesting and clever treatise on American aviation and romance. C. William Booth who supports Miss Mercedes Lowerie in the lead does some excellent work, as does Miss Lowerie who plays the role of an aviatrix.

Clerk Thinks Age Law Keeps Women From Elections

MONTESANO, Wash., Feb. 10.—One of the principal reasons women do not go to the polls on election day is because they do not wish to reveal their ages, as prescribed by law, City Clerk W. L. Carter contends, and he has asked the city fathers to consider his suggestion for remedying this situation.

Carter's solution is quite simple. He would issue slips of paper upon which the bashful maidens would write their names. These slips would be returned to the registration clerk and entered without the customary embarrassing procedure.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Feb. 10.—The painters started decorating the new homes of Mr. Ward and Mr. Gulick Tuesday. The Ward home is in the new Midway City subdivision while the Gulick house is in the original tract and both are under contract for building with C. H. Huyler, local contractor. Wednesday, Mr. Huyler completed his contract on the $15,000 Price building at Garden Grove and today commenced the construction of his own new brick veneer house at Midway City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuder motored to Los Angeles Tuesday to meet Mrs. Kuder's parents, who arrived from the east and will be house guests in the Kuder home for several weeks.

Luella Baxter of Westminster spent Sunday with Ilamay Hensley.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Ferguson and son were entertained Sunday at dinner in Orange at the home of Mrs. Ferguson's mother, Mrs. W. C. Watson, who in this manner observed the recent birthday anniversary of Mr. Ferguson.

At the meeting of the Midway City Poultry association Monday evening, Judge William Wise spoke on the value and necessity of culling and a general discussion of the subject by the assembled members was held.

John McKenzie jr., has been out of high school as the result of a badly infected finger, the result of a blister. He is now greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Terry entertained as Sunday guests, Mrs. J. B. Johnson and two daughters and Dr. Moony and mother, of Long Beach. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of Mr. Terry.

Sunday being Mrs. John McKenzie's birthday anniversary, a dinner party was held in the McKenzie home in honor of the event. In the company which enjoyed the day with Mrs. McKenzie were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Clenkenard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fater, Mrs. Ethel McKenzie, Arnold Bow and Mrs. Allen. The guests were all of Long Beach.

Mrs. V. Ferguson spent Tuesday in Santa Ana and Wednesday in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazard, accompanied by Mrs. Preston Stroud and daughter, Virginia Stroud, motored to Mt. Baldy on Tuesday.

Mrs. Ben Brown, of Long Beach was an over night guest Tuesday of Mrs. John McKenzie.

Lights of New York

By GRANT DIXON

Pot-Pourri

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—As haltingly set down these words, the New Year is well in. Lately I've been on the watch for some semblance of unity in the affairs of the spinning world, some identifiable rhythm. None has appeared. As 1927 sluffs off into something vaguely described as 1928, life is as mystical as ever. A hundred feet below the sea, dead men lie in a sunken submarine. In the sky above Guatemala, a boy flies a plane and writes signed stories for the Times about good will. In the Gulf Stream off Miami, the champion prize fighter of the world is out fishing with William Lyon Phelps. At the piers in the Hudson river, ladies are sailing to look at Malta nad Crete who have never looked at Rivington Street, Goerck Street, or Tempkins Square. On Sixth Avenue, half an hour ago, a man who looked like a seaman asked me for a quarter for a flop. Love ends at thirty, says Will C. Durant. Everyone should leave money to Columbia, says Nicholas Murray Butler. The sentiment of the country is for peace, believes Calvin Coolidge. In Washington, chemists are threatened with arrest for analyzing liquor which citizens are afraid to drink till they make sure it isn't poison. Just before sunrise, astronomers scan the heavens for a comet which has failed to show up, confounding science if not the Creator. In jail a young man regrets having killed a girl, and everyone knows his name, has seen his picture, has read his story. On a belt that never stops revolving, Fords are being produced that have gears instead of bands, and everybody knows that, too. It is the New Year. Possibly a happy one. Certainly a frantic one.

Feline

Cats of a good quality have been on exhibition at the Waldorf recently, that being one of the heights to which a cat can attain in New York. It has always seemed to me that cats, with their vast resourcefulness, their marvelous urbanity, have been misunderstood in the city—certainly underestimated. They are the most plausible of all walled dwellers; they hunt, and love, and live with the same freedom and naturalness that a rabbit wears in the woods. They are instinct with pavements, alleys and mud gardens, for in a city they are the autochthons. They know little old ladies. Down in the ghetto and on the waterfront they are wild, starved, predatory; in the parlors of West End avenue they attain to a brooding domesticity and become gradually eligible for cat shows. But everywhere they are aloof, philosophical. They know all. The city is their home, and here they will remain, to walk at night by themselves.

Wall Flower

With women gaining equality, if not, as Count Keyserling suggests, supremacy, it is strange that nothing has been done to curb the dance menace, or at least to change the system. The accepted form of social dances lays a male open to an evening of perils, pitfalls, and disappointments. The cut-in privilege makes it unlikely that he will go more than fifteen feet with any ravishing girl; and some antique courtesy makes it quite probable that he will be seated for interminable hours beside a frumpish dame who holds him with a glittering eye and a traditional advantage. In my own case I have solved the dance menace by avoiding it (and since the Lone Eagle made the statement that "he never learned how to dance," this excuse has taken on color and authenticity). Wherever there is a stag line, I find that the only safe course is to give out the news that one does not dance; after which it is possible to spend a reasonably comfortable evening on the sidelines beneath a palm, being mistaken for an aviator or an inebriate, but always by women of one's own choosing.

Can You Tie That

It is now an open secret where neck-tie designers get their ideas and their inspirations—which seemingly must have been exhausted years ago. I got round to examining my Christmas cravats the other day, and discovered that two of them, very gorgeous, bore little legends 'broidered on their labels. One said: "Design inspired by Sixteenth Century Italian Majolica." The other said: "Design inspired by Eighteenth Century Enameled Watches at the Metropolitan Museum of Art." I might add that I also received, and destroyed, the usual number of good old-fashioned unlabeled ties, designs inspired by Twentieth Century sunsets over the Gowanus ship canal.

100,000 DAYS ARE LOST IN 1 YEAR

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—"A stitch in time" would go well around Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, for in one year it would have a chance to save 100,000 days, or more than 270 years.

A tunnel from Times square to the Grand Central station is the "stitch" recommended by the Forty-second Street Property Owners and Merchants' association, who have gathered quite a collection of figures on the time wasted by waiting for signal lights on the main thoroughfares of the world's busiest city.

With its present system of traffic regulation it takes a pedestrian 22 minutes to walk from Times Square to the Grand Central terminal, a distance that should be covered in 10 minutes.

George W. Sweeney, president of the association, in a report says:

"At Fifth avenue and Forty-second street it is stated that an average of 800 pedestrians is halted by the signal lights for two-minute periods at least 20 times an hour. At the same time at least 200 in motor vehicles likewise are halted.

"This involves a total delay of 20,000 minutes per hour, or a total of 100,000 minutes during the five-hour rush period of the day. During the year this loss of time totals 31,200,000 minutes, or 520,000 hours, equaling 21,666 days.

Foreign Eggs Not Wanted In Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 10.—Imported eggs are not popular in Sweden. By marking those shipped into the country as foreign products, Sweden has managed to reduce its importation of eggs to one-tenth. Formerly many foreign countries, mainly Russia, Finland, Norway, Denmark and Germany, sold millions of eggs in Sweden and often marketed them as domestic. Since Sept. 1, 1926, when the new ordinance went into effect most of this competition ceased.

ROTARIANS HEAR NOTED EDUCATOR

ORANGE, Feb. 10.—Orange Rotarians heard Dr. Cass Arthur Reed, noted educator, at their weekly mid-day luncheon. Dr. Reed is in Orange this week as the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sutherland.

Dr. Reed gave an entertaining talk on Turkey, where he has lived for the past 15 years.

Name System In Iceland Puzzle

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Feb. 10.—In Icelandic, names are nearly always a conundrum. Up here one does not go out in life wearing the surname of one's father. If he—the father—is baptized Sveinn Bjorsson, the surname of his son or sons is Sveinnson, i. e., the son of Sveinn.

The daughter of Sveinn Bjornsson, the surname of his son or sons Christian name be Karin, then her full name will be Karin Sveinnsdottis, i. e., the daughter of Sveinn. She also retains this name as a married woman.

The Icelandic way of naming people dates back to the time of the Vikings. To others it may look cumbersome, and in the bigger realms of the world it would make life a burden for those who try to keep trace of people. The Icelanders, however, pride themselves in sticking to the traditional way and have no faults to find with it.

A few have ventured to establish what is called her family names. But they are the exceptions and a law has been put on the statute books forbiding new-fangled ideas of this kind.

New York Sleuths Become High Hat

NEW YORK, Feb. 10—The realtors started it. Then an undertaker became a mortician, a barber a cosmetician. And now private sleuths have bought high hats. Twelve of New York's detectives met recently to organize the Association of Certified Detectives. Undignified practices, such as peeking through a keyhole for evidence, wearing J. Ham Lewis whiskers, bullying runaway heiresses and kidnaping the infant offspring of warring parents, were frowned upon. "We intend to do all we can to clean up the rottenness in private detective work," Harold C. Keyes Vader explained.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By The Wall Street Journal Financial Review

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Wall Street had looked for a rise of 400,000 tons in U. S. Steel Corporation's unfilled tonnage today and when only 300,000 increase was shown, stocks broke further after a reaction in early dealings led by United States Steel common stock.

In the afternoon something of a recovery took place but it was only of sparse proportions.

Selling of Steel common was not only based on the unfilled tonnage statement, but reports that the corporation is now operating at slightly below last week's 89 per cent capacity.

General Motors also met pressure, but support developed, holding the issue around 137. Rails and Industrials were dull.

MR. [illegible] TOLD ME THAT SYLVIA APPLEBY ALMOST ASKED AMBROSE POTTS TO MARRY HER 'CAUSE THIS IS LEAP YEAR AND WIMMIN CAN ASK MEN THIS YEAR.
SOME WIMMIN GOT SENSE ENOUGH TO WANT TO GET MARRIED AND THEN ON THE OTHER HAND SOME WIMMIN WOULD RATHER SLAVE IN A HOTEL COOKING FOR 75 OR 100 PEOPLE THAN COOK FOR A SMALL FAMILY.
WELL, IN A SMALL FAMILY A WIFE WOULD HAVE MORE THAN COOKING TO DO—YOU GOT MENDING, DISH-WASHING, BED MAKING, CLEANING—YOU HAVE TO HURRY SO YOU CAN GET TO BED IN TIME TO GET UP—AND YOU DON'T GET NO 30 DOLLARS A WEEK FOR IT NEITHER.
YES AND I SUPPOSE IF SOME WIMMIN WOULD GET MARRIED THEY'D HANG ON TO EVERY CENT THEY GOT AND NOT TRUST THEIR HUSBANDS WITH A PENNY EVEN IF THE MINISTER WOULD TELL EM THEY'RE PARTNERS FOR LIFE.

5 ACRES VALENCIAS $9000

Would you be taking a chance on buying 5 acres of Orange county land for $9000? We are inclined to believe that you would not, considering that it contains 11 year old Valencia trees, is on a paved boulevard, has stock in two water companies, and with a little care will produce paying crops. What is more, it is in a frostless section where avocados thrive and if interset would within a few years be raising two crops instead of one, which would of course ultimately mean the survival of the fittest. No exchange accepted except a very small place in Orange. No. 2538.

TAKING THE EDGE FROM FICTION

One sometimes is moved to pray that Providence will keep the hands of the dramatists and scenario writers away from certain books. Both the legitimate stage and the moving picture, the latter much more surely than the former, are portrayals of sentiment. What organizations with such a purpose do with novels which are delineations of character, books wherein the chief interest lies in the authors' revelations of the mind, character, personality, and reactions of certain individuals under various circumstances or books wherein the chief interest is the description of a set of circumstances on conflict of forces is many times a credit to those who stage or screen them but still gives rise to the wish that there were more of a separation between the book and the stage production so that none would be deceived into thinking he had the heart of the book when he had seen the play or the movie.

Too many people, after having seen a stage or screen production do not read that particular book. They lose much thereby and sometimes considerable good is offset. For example, take "An American Tragedy." Few people would care to read two whole volumes after having seen the play, unless of course their interest was stimulated by the fact that Boston authorities have seen fit to ban the book. But "An American Tragedy" stimulates an interest in juvenile delinquents which is much needed. Again with "Show Boat," the merry henpecked captain on the stage is distinctive, but since his whole character must be compressed into a few spoken lines he must be more of a caricature and less real on the stage than in the book. Another one was "East Side, West Side." The novel had climaxes much too dramatic to seem remotely real but at least a bit unique, with the hero not marrying his boyhood sweetheart but following the gleaming torch of an ideal. There is nothing to mark it as different in the movies. The interesting description of Tammany politics as it works in New York city is all omitted, probably the one worthwhile thing in the book, and yet the movie is curtailing the reading of the book.

There are many others. The moral would seem to be if you want to enjoy a book don't go to see the drama or movie, but it is so much easier.

THE FARMERS' FUTURE

Prof. Dodd, of Chicago University, sees little hope in the immediate future for the improvement in the condition of the farmer in this country. Overproduction within our borders and competition from without is gradually reducing the farmer to a state of peasantry. The only hope he holds out is that the farmer has been threatened in times past with similar dire consequences, and then something has arisen to change the situation. Professor Dodd sees no such hope above the horizon at the present time, but he will not despair.

This is not a very encouraging picture. After all, the stability of a country depends upon a prosperous farming class. He is the one man in our population who is most essential. For ourselves, we believe that the farmer himself will have to pull himself out of this predicament. The farmer has always been a good deal of an individualist. Cooperation has not been a conspicuous word in his vocabulary. He will have to learn what the fruit growers of California and of Florida have done to stabilize their industry. He will have to get into politics in a statesmanlike way to get legislation that will cheapen the market in which he buys, to get more favorable freight rates, and to use the resources of storage and refrigeration. When the farmer gets together under expert leadership, he will find the way out. No temporary expedient of subsidy or governmental aid will give him lasting relief, though it may help work out his problem. The highly protected textile industries of the East, have had the hardest kind of sledding the last few years. If governmental aid could do anything, it surely ought to have done it for the cotton and the woolen manufacturers with their high tariff schedules.

We have a great sympathy for the farmer. He has been the victim of too much exploitation. He has also been the victim of an absurd philosophy of production and distribution.

WHY NOT?

We are glad the news is coming out that busy housewives are seeking the beauty parlors and amidst the cares of the home and the children insisting on keeping up their personal appearance. A Chicago Beauty Parlor proprietor says that the women are retaining their beauty now and seeking it just as they seek the right kind of flour for baking, or the best kind of vacuum cleaner. He claims the Chicago beauty parlors did seventy-two million dollars worth of business last year.

Well why not? The woman who pays attention to her beauty keeps her own self-respect and is more likely to keep the regard and affection of her husband and the companionship of the whole family. There is no reason why they should not be as proud of mother's appearance as they are of her sacrifices in many directions.

MARRIAGE AND THE CHILDREN

An official of the Wayne County Court (Detroit, Mich.) stated the other day, as a friendly warning to those considering hasty marriages, that eleven thousand divorced husbands were paying alimony through his office and that four thousand of them were prosecuted annually in the Circuit court for non-payment. Furthermore the alimony payers were increasing at the rate of sixty-five to seventy-five a week. Ninety-eight per cent of those committed to jail for not keeping up their alimony payments were fathers who refused to keep up payments in support of their children, only in unusual cases are divorced husbands of childless wives committed to jail.

[illegible] we are so busy talking and discussing companionate marriages and divorce, and the right of [illegible] to pursue happiness as seemeth [illegible] too little remembrance of the children of the couple obsessed with their own eagerness to escape from the relationship they have entered into.

But there is a great deal of truth in the statement that the real home of the child is in the relationship of the father and the mother, where there is not love or mutual respect and admiration between the father and the mother there is not much of a home and where there are those sentiments there is a home, regardless of other things.

It is also true that where there is unselfishness there is love. Where parents are sufficiently unselfish to consider the welfare of their children as paramount to their own pursuit of happiness there will usually be found enough love to make a real home for the children.

The subject, "Where shall we send the youthful moron—to school or to the factory," was debated at a New York luncheon club the other day. Rather a new subject for discussion, and one which is likely to outlive the present membership of many a club. Let hard-pressed committees take notice. Both the schools and the factories seem to be overcrowded already.

Better Work Is Done As Age Comes On

Pasadena Star-News

Age is not necessarily a barrier to the performance of useful, acceptable work. A man or woman of fifty or sixty years is just as capable a worker as he or she was at thirty—and perhaps more capable, even physically—Secretary of Labor Davis told an assemblage of 3000 veteran employes of the Westinghouse company. He backed this assertion with proof. "The reason is that the years have brought the reward of experience and added skill. Instead of becoming a liability at fifty or sixty, the intelligent worker is all the more an asset to his employer. Science has added years to the span of human life. Today nobody feels old at any age. We not only have abolished the feeling of old age, but people are healthier. They lead a more active life."

Secretary Davis cited Thomas A. Edison at 81, George F. Baker at 88 and Chauncey M. Depew at 93 as examples of men who are accomplishing as much as their juniors by many years—and they are still hard at work.

There are many demonstrations of this activity despite age in every community. Men do not have to drudge today as they once did. Even in the industries, where formerly the labor was extremely hard, machinery now takes much of the exacting toil out of the day's work. With the shortening of hours of labor, as compared with former times, men not only keep themselves in good physical condition for their work, but they have more time in which to improve their minds.

The Eternal Appeal

Pomona Progress-Bulletin

We are told that religion has lost its appeal. People mournfully point out that more persons remain outside the churches than go into them. The empty pews are the theme of many a mournful disquisition.

And yet something occurred the other day that showed this apparent indifference to religion is all surface stuff. The British Parliament was discussing a revised prayer book for the Established Church of England.

The mob of people who sought admission to attend the debates broke all recent precedents. The speeches made in the House of Lords and in the House of Commons broke all records for eloquence, for intenseness, for earnestness, for ability.

All party lines were smashed. All class lines were forgotten. Bishops, aristocrats and workmen on one side opposed bishops, aristocrats and workmen on the other. The result of the voting was awaited with a tenseness that is hard to realize or to picture. Not in recent years has parliamentary action been so keenly watched by a whole nation.

It was a derouting thing for pessimists. It showed once for all that religion still comes close to the hearts and minds of men. The lessons learned at the mother's knee have not been forgotten. They are still cherished. They have still a place in the innermost being. They still reign in the core of us.

War and Mammon and the great deity, Play, and that other deity, Sport, are all right in this ordinary workaday world, but in the silent, thoughtful hours there is one supreme thing which counts supremely—communion with God.

OUR CHILDREN

MAKING A BED

"She's a very good girl and all that, but I can't get her to make her bed. Even when she does it she throws things at the place where they ought to be. Never does it right."

There was real anxiety in the mother's voice. Some deep fear for the welfare of her daughter was working underneath the plaintive tone that said, "I can't get her to make her bed."

The girl was easy-going. She passed her grades with little to spare. Not because she could not but because she would not make the effort to do better. "That's enough." "That's good enough." "That'll pass."

When she dressed for a party she called to mother, "Are my things ready, mother?"

"Yes, I laid them all out for you. I had to get new ties for your slippers."

Mother put the finishing touches on the costume, tightened a knot here, moved a fastener there, smoothed a bit of drapery that was out of line.

"O don't fuss. I'll do just as I am."

There was never any recognition of the share mother took in the way she was. That was all taken for granted. When she came home from the party she tossed her clothes wherever they might fall and tumbled into the bed she had made for herself that morning.

"So heedless, so careless about her things. I try to keep her looking well. She is very popular. She is liked at school as well as elsewhere. But I cannot get her to make her bed in the morning."

The making of the bed was the symbol of untidiness and carelessness that her mother used to indicate a great lack in this child. The old idea of making a bed according to rule was fixed as a standard of order and of conscience. If the bed were made well other things would be done accordingly. The standard of bed making would be the standard for all other work and conduct.

Mother was right. Each bit of work done in a thorough and workmanlike manner is a buttress to character. Every time a task is done to a high standard the soul of the worker is strengthened. A bit of work executed to a nicety of finish is a tonic to the body and the soul. It is dangerous to do a sloppy job.

Now then, you young lady of high school age, you lad in the college dormitory, make your bed in the morning and make it according to the rule, wide hem up, second sheet inside out, wide hem out, all blankets smoothed, all turned squarely at the corners and well tucked in. Let that task be your morning prayer for efficiency and right action.

For as you make your bed you shall lie in it.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TOO LATE

I observe in the news that a poet
  Climbed fearlessly into a cage,
Where a lion was pent and was wholly intent
  On expressing its unbridled rage.
But the poet pulled out of his pocket
  A lilting and metrical lay,
Which he read to the brute in a voice like a flute
  And kept him completely at bay.

As a child I was always ambitious,
As a means of accomplishing fame,
To enter a lair at the circus, and there
  A man eating lion to tame.
I pictured the cowering monster.
  As he cringed in dismay and surprise
While his roarings were stilled as he trembled and thrilled
  At the terrible glare in my eyes.

But my parents, profuse with objections
  Forbade me this daring career.
No lions I've eyed with a conqueror's pride
  While they shuddered and whimpered with fear.
And when, every summer, a visit
  To a wandering circus I paid,
I thought with a sigh that my chance had gone by
  When I learned the poetical trade.

And now, though I know that a lion
  Will bow and surrender his head
That his roar he'll discard at the sight of a bard
  And slyly pretend to be dead,
When I know that by reading a sonnet
  I could quell this invincible brute
I have lost the desire I had to acquire
  That noble and daring pursuit.

A NARCOTIC CURE

The papers the other day announced an apparently certain cure for drug addicts.

There are probably 200,000 drug addicts in the United States. New hope comes to them through the discovery of a Hungarian immigrant named A. S. Horovitz. This is not a quack cure nor a money-making investment, but the news of it is contained in the calm professional report of the New York Medical Journal and Record.

It has the backing of Dr. Alexander Lambert, once president of the American Medical Association, and Dr. Frederick Tilney, president of the American Neurological association, who are men of great authority and reputation.

They say they have observed 400 cases which have been treated with this remedy and the results are satisfactory.

The remedy is "a solution of lipoids combined with non-specific proteins and water soluble vitamins," whatever that may mean.

It is said that after administrations varying from seventy-two hours to three weeks the patients have gone about their business apparently cured.

After a day they achieve peaceful sleep, after two or three days they eat heartily and after four days the craving for "snow" or liquor or chloral has left.

The medicine is derived from several members of the vegetable family, such as soy beans and cotton seeds. The proteins come from alfalfa or millet and the vitamins from other plant seeds. It is called narcosan and does not contain any morphine, heroin or other habit-forming drugs.

So the effects of narcosan are totally different from the distressing and even horrible influences of other methods. It causes none of those night horrors and insomnias which torment the addict under other treatments.

The patients begin to sleep peacefully the second or third night. In a short time their appetites become excessive and they especially crave sugar. This is remarkable, as almost all drug addicts report a loss of appetite.

Besides this they digest everything they eat which helps much in the progress toward health.

Under other treatments or cures the patient often becomes hysterical, sometimes maniacal, and attacks his nurses and keepers. Many of the poorer victims commit robbery, assault or murder in order to get the drug. All this is avoided when narcosan is employed.

Developments of this cure will be closely watched by the medical profession.

Perhaps there is no cure for bad habits, including narcotic habits, except the moral cure, a [illegible] adaptation to [illegible] moral nature, but physical cures [illegible].

O deer, thats very indefinite, ma sed. Did he say enything about how mutch water? she sed, and pop sed, Yes he did, not too mutch and not too little, not more than twice a week, or perhaps he sed twice a day, I dont remember now the iggsact specifications, and the fellow I bawt it from jest had some in a waggon so I may never see him agen, you know how waggons are.

O Willyum I think your awful, how am I going to give this plant its proper care and nurrishment, I think your terrible, ma sed, and pop sed, Yee gods if that issent the limit, I pay 6 bones of the realm for a plant and make a holey spectacle of myself carrying it tenderly through the streets, and then I get a blast for not bringing its nerse along with it, Im through, yee gods, and ma sed, O well, never mind, dont get ixcited, Ive got liver and onions for suppir.

BY MAIL FROM HONOLULU, T. I.

THIS is written out in the Pacific ocean, a thousand miles from land in any direction, on the way to what was once the most isolated part of the world—the Hawaiian islands. Now Hawaii is the "cross roads of the Pacific," the most familiar and accessible of all the Pacific countries and the one in which the representatives of all of them commonly meet when they have anything to discuss together. This ship, the new "Malolo," has made the islands even nearer. It is now only four days from San Francisco to Honolulu—no further in time than to New York—and the trip is of absurd ease and comfort. Why do we demand fresh cantaloupe for breakfast in Yosemite, and every luxury at sea that we had on land? Anyhow; we do, and it is the business of shipping companies to supply it, as this ship magnificently does. Pacific travel now differs from that on the Atlantic only in the better climate and the greater beauty of the ocean. The artificial part is exactly the same sort of floating hotel.

• • •

THIS new comfort and speed is reflected in the passenger list. Of the upwards of 400 passengers on this ship, only 79 are from California, while 275 are from the East or Middle West. The people who visit California in the winter are increasingly including Hawaii in the itinerary. Doubtless the ships from Los Angeles would make at least as strong a showing. To the semi-tropics of California, the tropics of Hawaii now add their attractive power. And today, when the ship's radio brings the news of the worst blizzard of the season in the East, the reason is apparent. The human being, like the plant, instinctively turns toward the sun.

• • •

HAWAII, even in the summer, when most Californians find it easiest to go, is the play-tropics. The islands have all the beauty, most of the luxuriance, and none of the discomforts of the steaming real tropics. The hottest day of a Hawaiian summer, with the kona wind blowing, as occasionally happens, would seem cool to a Chicagoan just come from a corn-belt summer. And these days are scarce, even in summer. In winter—there is no winter. It is the balmy edge of the tropics. So heat is rarely in question at any time, and never seriously. And the other discomforts of the tropics—the primitive living conditions, the stenches, the diseases and the vermin, which do not show in the pictures and are omitted in most descriptions, are unknown in Hawaii. It is the one part of the tropics where you do not have to do without any of the things you had at home, and where you have all the attractions of tropical beauty and picturesque life, besides.

THE ship's radio brings al news that the confere Panama has refused to revolutionary wars. Revolu the most precious privilege of these countries. THE SPORTMAN'S CREED

A few months ago I stood in the steaming quarters of a football team and listened to the coach talk to the players between the halves of a hard-fought game.

Into a few minutes of flaming speech the coach crowded the whole philosophy of healthy-minded sportsmanship, and I went back to my seat in the stadium with the impression of a creed of sportsmanship as definite and as dominating as the creeds of religion drafted by the church fathers.

The sportsman would probably cast his creed in the form of a series of determinations rather than a series of dogmas, somewhat as follows:

1. I will not break training, for the satisfactions of achievement are more durable than the satisfaction of appetite.

2. I will not give up in the midst of a contest just because I may be, at the moment, tired or discouraged, for, save in rare instances of utter exhaustion, there are always untapped levels of energy upon which men may call, and I am in honor bound to my fellow players to give to the contest the untapped levels as well as the surface layer of my energy.

3. I will subordinate my playing to the playing of the team, for I have no right to let my vanity stand in the way of victory, to sacrifice sportsmanship for the spotlight, or to trade group achievement for personal applause.

4. I will keep my hea ever hard I am hit, for my temper is treason to since I cannot have a c and a hot temper at t time.

5. I will be modest in knowing that, if I have faith of the sportsman the victory is but a comm uct of the combined pla fellows, even if I gave a formance at a critical and knowing that the m victory is life's severest man's character.

6. I will be game in d only the weakling whin the fortunes of contest ru him.
